FOREWORD

North, South, East, West — the four winds, the points of the compass, the corners of Arlington County. For the last time the expansive roof of Washington-Lee has sheltered students from all over the county; for the last time an incoming class has been larger than a graduating class; this year has marked the end of an era.

The 1955 Blue and Gray is the final chapter of this era. The staff presents it to you with pride — the same pride you hold for W-L. Between these covers are the compass points of your school — North, South, East, West.

ADMINISTRA

The School Board of Arlington is a very important organization to every public school student in the county. Its five elected members have the responsibility of seeing that the students get the education planned for them by the state.

Each member of the board takes a school under his wing, so to speak, and makes sure that that institution is properly organized and cared for. Washington-Lee's administrative protector is Dr. Barnard Joy, who takes part with lively interest in the planning of major school events and activities, as well as the curricular necessities of school life.

This lively interest is shown by the entire School Board. Without it the Arlington Hospital Fund Drive would not have been nearly so successful; without it school would be nothing more than a place of learning. Certainly the School Board is deserving of the praise due it, for it is through this team that Arlington County Schools have attained their high scholastic rating.

In their twice-monthly meetings the School Board charts the future courses and directions the County's schools will take. With their past record the future of Washington-Lee High School, and every school in the county, is assured.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Dr. Barnard Joy, Mr. Warren Cox, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Campbell, Dr. L. Clark Keating, Dr. Erwin R. Draheim.

TION

MR. T. EDWARD RUTTER
Superintendent of Schools

DR. C. GLENN HASS
Associate Superintendent of Schools

DR. EDWARD J. BRAUN
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

MR. CHARLES J. WALSH
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

Mr. T. Edward Rutter, Superintendent of Arlington County Public Schools, is the School Board's chief executive. Through this connection the School Board gains its professional leadership from the educational experience of Mr. Rutter and his staff.

Mr. Rutter was appointed to his position of Superintendent by the School Board, and it is through a mutual understanding and friendliness that his plans are carried out to benefit every student and teacher to the fullest. In Mr. Rutter's able hands are the coordination and direction of the entire school program.

Several years of teaching experience and two years as principal of Washington-Lee have given Mr. Rutter much educational background and an understanding of the student that makes his official duties fit right into place with everyone else's ideas on education.

Mr. Rutter and his staff have a warm friendliness and desire to be helpful that rounds out the entire administration as a group that is definitely in the student's corner, no matter where in the world the student may eventually wind up.

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

JACKSON 7-7600

To The Students Of Washington-Lee High School
Arlington
Virginia

Dear Students:

The yearbook theme appropriately brings our attention to the growth of Arlington County and the unique development of the high school program in the community. The time has come when Washington-Lee High School cannot serve all the young people in the county. This task must now be shared because the secondary school population has increased tremendously.

This development in our high school program presents us with many significant challenges at Washington-Lee High School. It marks the beginning of new relationships among the young people who will be representing different high schools within the community. While our school has the advantage of a rich tradition, it, also, has the serious responsibility of leading the way in establishing guideposts for sound inter-school relations. Much thoughtful planning will be necessary to assure participation between the schools and to keep them operating on a high plain of ethics and sportsmanship. I am confident the W-L student body is capable and willing to accept the challenges that have developed with the growth of our county high school program.

I should, also, like to take this opportunity to tell the present senior class, the largest in the history of W-L, that I am very proud of them and their achievements. It is my hope that each of you will continue to achieve and enjoy personal success and happiness as you face the challenges of the future.

Sincerely,

Jerry J. Gerich

MINISTRATION

Mr. Benjamin T. Norris, Associate Principal, received the promotion to his present position this year after serving Washington-Lee for two years as an assistant principal. His college background consists of a B.S. Degree from Appalachian State Teachers' College and a Masters Degree from New York University. Ranking high on his list of teaching experiences is the principalship which he held at Buchanan High School before coming to Arlington.

Mr. Raymond R. Reed's rather long title is also very descriptive of his job, Assistant Principal in Charge of Building and Grounds, Management and Services. He has served in this capacity for the past three years before which he was County Supervisor of Music. Mr. Reed has an A.B. Degree from Doane College, Crete, Nebraska and a M.A. from Carnegie Technical Institute, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Alexander H. Anderson, Assistant Principal, has the task of organizating the instructional program. Coming to Arlington in 1950 from a teaching position in Keystone Junior College, Mr. Anderson assumed the responsibilities of both a teacher and Grade Chairman until this year when he was given his present appointment. Mr. Anderson is the holder of a B.A. and M.A. Degree from New Jersey State Teachers' College at Montclair and a M.A. from Columbia University.

Faculty

From where does the faculty of Washington-Lee come? The answer to that question is an easy one. They come from every corner of the United States, from every point of the compass. W-L's teaching body comes from ninety-two colleges and universities in thirty-one states and the District of Columbia.

Those are the dry statistics, the numbers; but the faculty is real, and, no matter how unreasonable teachers may seem at times, they are human. Here is another question. What will the students remember about their teachers? It will probably be the reassuring word when a problem seems impossible, the hours after school sponsoring clubs, giving make up work, extra instruction, and detention. These are a few of the facets of a teacher's connection with school life that will be remembered by the students.

Sitting with the student body in the stands, on the W-L side, at every football game, is a kind looking lady, or it could be a man. She, or he, is the one who will yell the loudest when a W-L man crosses the goal; she's the one who will sing "W-L Will Shine" with as much gusto as any student. And the player on the field will have another memory, one of the teacher letting him come in after school to make up a test he had failed so he would be eligible to play in the game.

The faculty of W-L is as capable a group as can be found anywhere. The average teaching experience for the teachers at W-L is eight years, yet this year four members of the faculty are teaching for the first time. Sixty-six of the faculty have won their Master's Degree, this accomplishment representing at least five years hard study. Much of this study has been done at night, so they could teach during the day. One-fourth of the faculty at W-L are working beyond their Master's Degree.

It would be hard to find a better, more capable, or more understanding group of instructors anywhere than the student body has here. The faculty teaches everyone the compass points of life in order that the students may be better able to live, they aim for active participation in school life by as many W-Lites as possible, and they accomplish the laudable task of getting twenty-three hundred students through high school.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Among the many special services at W-L are the nurses, the secretarial staff, and those people the students seldom notice, the custodians.

Much paper work goes on in a big school, and, somehow, some of the paper finds its way to the floor; that's where the custodial staff comes in. They are not mere floor sweepers; they are people, and they play an important part in keeping W-L habitable.

W-L's well equipped clinic is available to any student who feels sick or who is injured during the school day. The nurses will bandage minor paper cuts or tape gym injuries, all as part of the special services.

When lunch time rolls around, everybody's compass points in the same direction, the cafeteria. But there is more to the cafeteria than the cheerful figures in white who dish out the meals. The food must be bought, prepared, and approved by an expert dietician before the students can satisfy their hunger.

Mrs. Lois Downs is kept busy in the office with many kinds of secreterial work.

The phone in the office is in almost constant use, so Mrs. Betty Hockman will have to wait patiently until Mrs. Grace Thomas finishes her conversation.

SPECIAL SERVICES

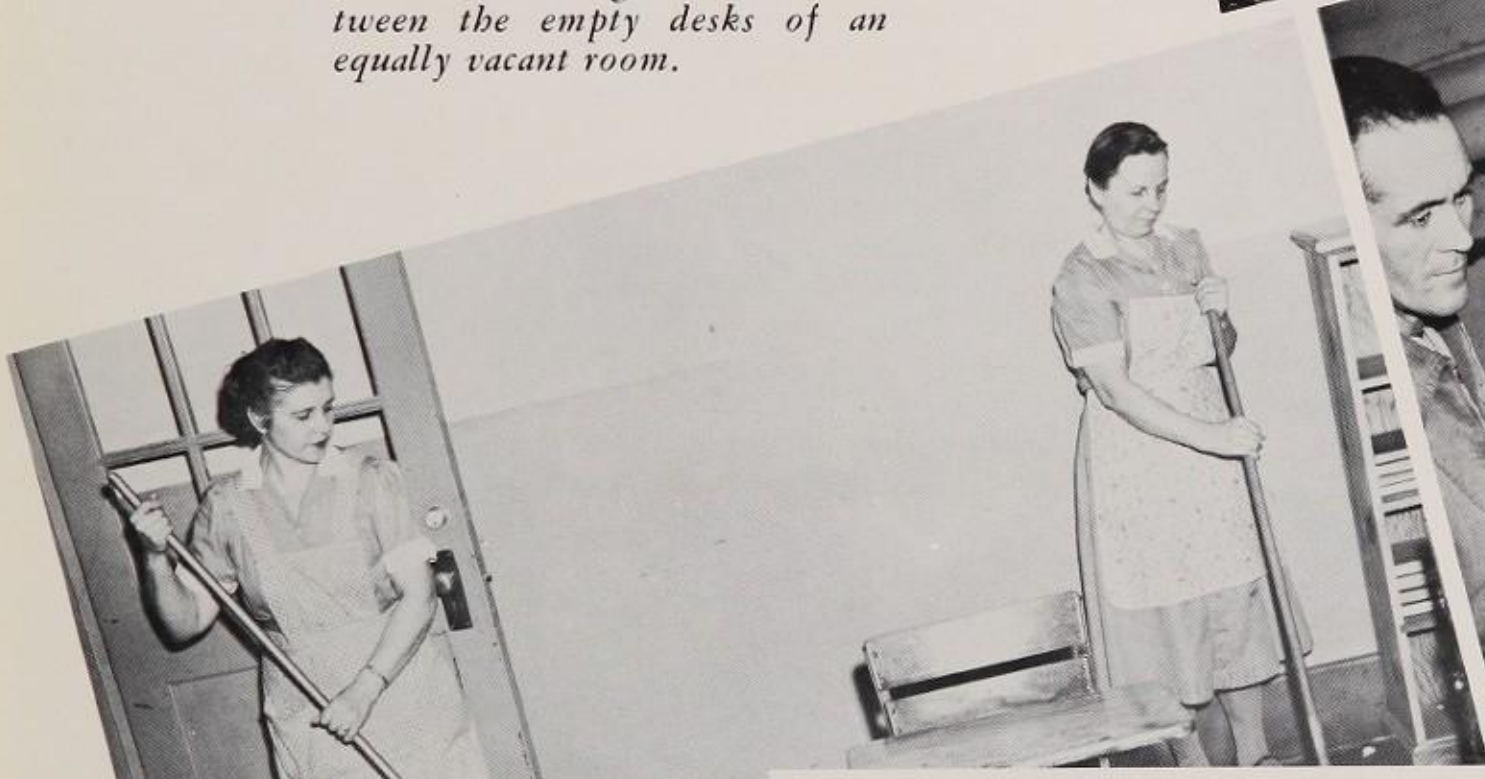
Mrs. Ruth Watkins, Registrar, and Mrs. Thelma Ross, Secretary for Guidance, listen carefully to a student's question concerning the guidance department.

"Somewhere in here is a card on. . .", mumbles Mrs. Marietta Campbell, Secretary for the Library, as she goes through the schedule changes.

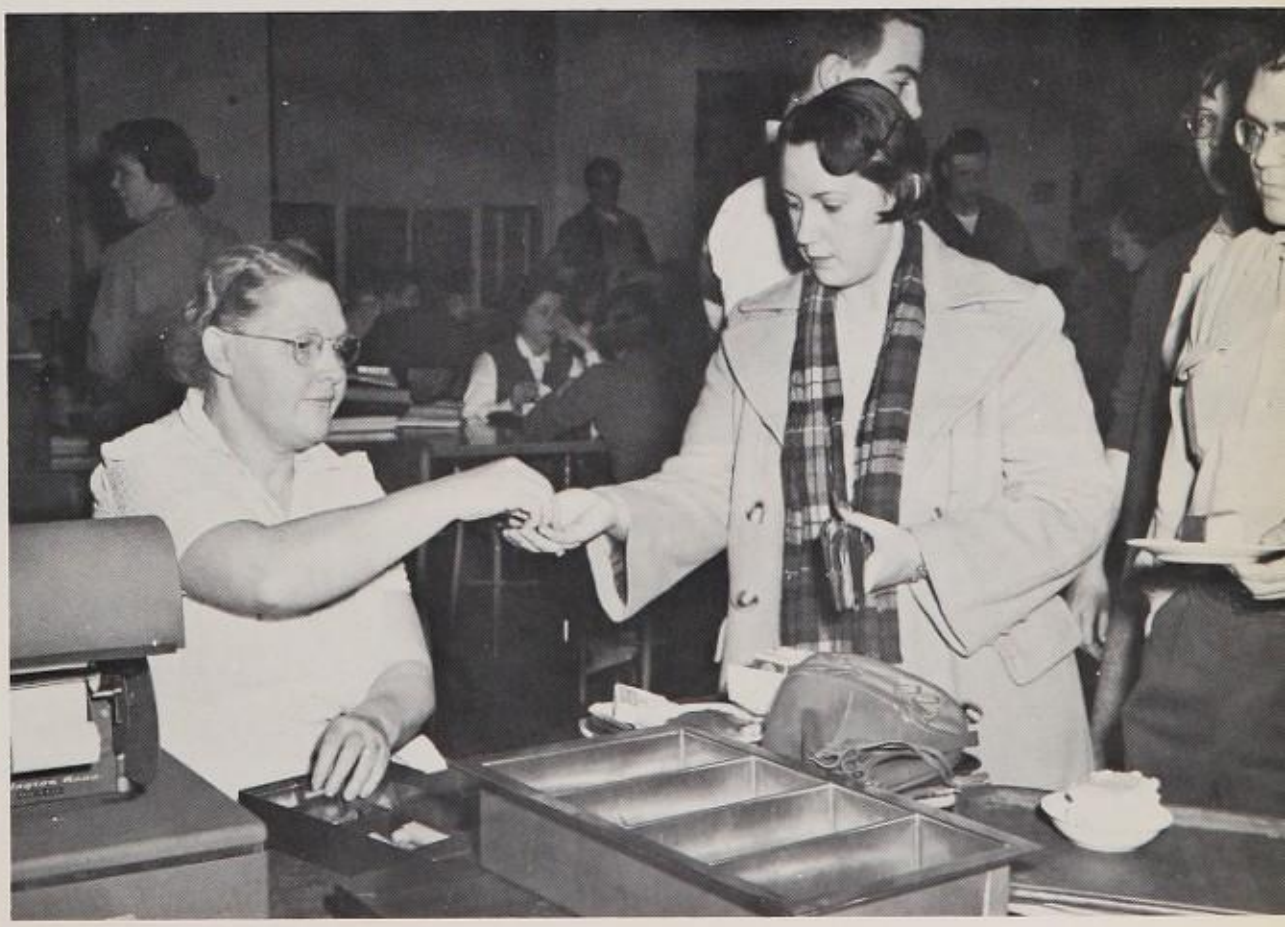
If Georgianna Nagley's temperature is other than what it should be, Mrs. Barbara Rhynedance, School Nurse, might suggest that she go home before her condition gets worse.

After the food is prepared in the cafeteria and ready for consumption Mrs. Lucey Marcus and Mrs. Celeste Newman must face a famished horde of W-L students and teachers.

Every afternoon a cavalcade of brooms makes a clean sweep of W-L. Here Valentine Poples and Tekla Trebacs guide them between the empty desks of an equally vacant room.



Careful adjustments by Henry Winston and James Marcus assure the comfortable heating of W-L.



Mrs. Maude Bradley makes sure that the students get the correct change before they leave the line with their lunch.

Seniors

In the fall of 1952 almost 1100 sophomores entered the halls of Washington-Lee High School. Amid all the confusion of entering a large school for the first time, abetted by the stark incompleteness of an unfinished addition, this behemoth class had much to look to in the future. After one year grades and transfers had reduced the number to 950.

The 1953-54 school year brought added fire and enthusiasm to the Class of '55. They had mellowed with age, new found maturity, and a new kind of group spirit. They were ready to really settle down and be something. Ideas brought from all over the United States, and many parts of the world, were contributed by members of the class. It was discovered that size isn't what makes a class; it's the people in it and their activities that count. The class developed another trait, one of not being satisfied with the obvious. They probed deeper than what things appeared to be, they thrived on new challenges, they made full use of the material made available to them on all sides.

Soon the Class of '55 discovered they had the ability to sell themselves. The student body found itself responsible for a major part of school life. Student Government, office work, hall-monitoring, and many other duties fell to a group who had become more than five-day-a-week scholars; the average W-Lite became an active citizen in an equally active school community, and he found it most enjoyable. Educators from every point of the compass have visited W-L, and most of them have expressed amazement at the way the students handle their responsibilities.

The Class of '55 has already boxed the compass thoroughly, but there are still many points to be covered, and the successful behemoth will cover them well. Each individual will go in his own direction, be it college or a career, but he will carry a part of Washington-Lee with him, the part that contains three pleasant school years.

Underclassmen

The class of 700 sophomores that trod the footworn halls of W-L for the first time in September was a class unaware of the momentous change which would be made in its attitude and thoughts in the next three years. This sophomore class would hurry through W-L, at each step changing, maturing, as thirty classes of sophomores had done before it.

The initial problems of registration, getting books, orientation, and getting acquainted with classmates, all happened in the first frantic weeks. Then the sophomore learned the familiar characteristics of Washington-Lee, the long halls, getting to class before the five-minute tardy bell, finding books in the library, the double lunch period, the long lunch lines, and the vast number of people.

At first, faced with these new problems, the sophomore clung to his old friends, thinking in terms of the junior high school from which he had come. After a few days at W-L, this grouping of old buddies soon mushroomed into an overall massing of similar personalities. The cooperation and unity which stems from working together toward a common goal, or towards the solution of a common challenge, welded the new class into a strong working body. New problems, heavier assignments, and stiffer tests encouraged a fast growing maturity. Because of this rapidly expanding view of the world the sophomore developed into a typical W-Lite. He discovered that there was an important place for him to fill as a student, both in the class room and after school.

The juniors, 600 strong, with one big year of experience under their belts, have begun to fill their obligations as W-Lites, they volunteered more freely in class, and participated in more after school activities. Ordering rings, holding dances, making campaign posters and speeches, and participating in elections were some of the highlights of the year. The thoughts of junior high allegience have been forgotten; a strong school spirit has replaced the old tie.

During the past year the compass of experience has guided the underclassmen one step closer to their ultimate goals—the title of senior, and graduation.

SOPHOMORES

Friday Gym Period rolls around and the students get a day of relaxation. Square dancing, shuffleboard, ping pong and many other light sports are enjoyed as the Boys' and Girls' classes mix for organized good times.

"Now this is the part that's always moving in class when it isn't supposed to be," Mr. Donald Lewis tells biology students Ann Compton, Ann Atkins.

"I pledge allegiance to the flag . . ." Section 10-8 starts the morning as homerooms at W-L have done for years, with a solemn pledge of loyalty to school and country.

A handy chair for a throne and a kingdom of good reading all belong to any student interested in the library. Danny Wilson settles down with a cloth bound monarchy discovered on a title gazing expedition.

Activities

Washington-Lee never dies. From early morning to late every night there is a W-Lite somewhere in the building happily engrossed in some activity. The halls are always alive with sounds of one sort or another. A radio may blare its commercials through the halls and be drowned out by a hillbilly band rehearsing in a classroom with the door open. The musical mountain folk may be faded out in turn by the resounding clatter of banging hammers in the prop shop. When the sound of the thespian thumb pounders settles, the reverbrating voices of actors and actresses endlessly striving for perfection echoes through the empty halls.

With hollow footsteps one moves on along the lonely, yet busy, upstairs corridor, past the Art Department, where the only sound is the thoughtful scratching of pencil on drawing pad, past the row of science rooms where the cheerful gurgle of new experiments rolls around complicated paraphanalia and dies under the blast of a roaring exhaust fan. One descends steps worn smooth by countless numbers of students rushing from one place to another with unapparent determination, and onto the first floor.

This level is as active as the two upstairs. The first sound is one of clacking typewriters and muffled shouts and groans from the always busy publications room. A few hollow footsteps up the hall the more domestic sound of sewing machines and whistling teapots marks the location of the Home Economics Department. Beyond this is the little auditorium with its sounds of endless rehearsal, and in the middle of this year the soft sound of brushes caressing plaster as student artists inscribed a large mural against the gentle curve of the inside wall.

One could continue this tour by ear for hours, catching the lovely strains of band and orchestra music, punctuated by an occasional sour note as rehearsal brings them nearer perfection. There are sounds more directly human, too. There might be the buzz of discussion groups as the most complicated, or the simplest, topics are covered thoroughly by practiced speakers, or the sound of a hard-pressed debater noising his way out of a corner.

These are the activities of Washington-Lee, people doing things without shame for the cacophony of sound they cause. But these threads of ear-ticklers echo their way from all directions into a symphonic concert of people voluntarily engaged in the activity they enjoy most. These are W-Lites in action.

The Student Council spent much of its summer vacation in traveling around the United States to conventions in order that they could bring back many suggestions and views on Student organization. They traveled west to Denver, north to St. Paul, Minnesota, and south to Jackson, Mississippi. When September arrived with its busy first days of school, the Council moved into its new quarters in room 303 and settled down to much hard work.

Nothing was routine for the Student Council, nothing stopped its mad dash to perfection. Many projects were always fighting for the best place in the Council's fire. The Arlington Hospital Fund Drive was organized and carried off under the leadership of W-L; an amendment to the constitution providing for Senators to replace class officers on the Council was polished and passed; pep rallies were planned and held; the Student Activities Fund was completely redone; another amendment was started; more conventions attended; the Council found itself spending more time than there was available and doing it successfully.

The student body of W-L is a powerful group, not because of its size, but because of its ability to choose able leaders and follow their plans thoroughly. Washington-Lee is a democratic school community.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Representatives from every club at W-L met each Thursday to hash out their Clubs' problems. The members worked to back the "Share the Fare" plan which will bring a foreign exchange student to Washington-Lee next year. The carefully crepe-papered cars in the G.W. parade were judged by the I.C.C. At Christmas the I.C.C. made an award to the homeroom with the best holiday bedecked door and again found success in the festive Alumni Dance. The Inter-Club Council wound up its busy year by presenting an award to the "Club of the Year."

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Maude Orndorff chapter of the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, better known as the Quill and Scroll, found its members so busy in their respective fields of journalism that they had little time for the activities of their honor society. The society was proud of this, though, because it showed what a high level the publications of Washington-Lee have gained. Journalism is very important at W-L, and the students run the publications with little control and pressure from the faculty.

The Science Honor Society is an organization which recognizes students with outstanding scholarship in scientific fields. Conducting help sessions and special sliderule classes have been this year's service activities. The Society also encouraged members and non-members to enter the various science contests and fairs during the year, especially the Westinghouse Science Talent Search in which W-L gained national recognition, and contests sponsored by the Washington Academy of Science and the Virginia Academy of Science. A newly-organized Alumni Association kept graduate members informed of the Society's activities and compiled a file on the college activities of graduate members.

THESPIANS

Conversations highly improbable for high school students were heard echoing through the halls when the cast of "Ladies of the Jury" gathered for rehearsals. "Ladies" was one of the productions put on by troop 1251 of the Thespians National Honor Society. SPEAKERS BUREAU

Shep Morgan, President of Speakers' Bureau, holds the mike as Claire Marx practices her speech.

There were few gales when the winds of the Speakers Bureau gathered for meetings. A real service to the community, this group of practiced speakers presented talks on a wide variety of subjects before an equally wide variety of organizations. Prospective members tried out before the veterans of the club. The members are chosen for their poise and speaking ability.

DEBATE TEAM

International trade problems may sound like a dull subject, but give it to two opposing pairs of debaters, slip in a timekeeper to call a stop to long-winded oratory, a judge to offer constructive criticism and render a decision, and the result is a spirited often entertaining and always informative battle of words. W-L is a member of the Northern Virginia Debate League and this year again added its voices to, or more accurately, pitted its voices against the other schools of the league in an effort to maintain the highest league standing so that they might go to the State Meets in Charlottesville.

Mr. Richard Carrigan, Debate Coach, goes over the degree of specialization in the United States before an important league debate.

KNITTING CLUB

The girls of the Knitting Club spent their activity periods busily working balls of yarn into useful garments, many of which were turned over to local welfare organizations. Beginners quickly learned the fundamentals in the complicated art of needle clicking. As the year closed, everyone had mastered many of the difficult tricks of knitting.

RECORD CLUB

Bach, Beethoven, and Benny Goodman were some of the topics of discussion and interest this year in the W-L Record Club. The members played, evaluated, and enjoyed all the music highlighted in today's world. Each member donated records towards the formation of a record collection from which future record clubs may draw.

 New members of Beta Club reach climax of initiation.

Y-TEENS

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Jean Harris, Jane Nowell, Pat Farrington.

It was a busy year for the gals in Y-Teens. In the line of welfare they made a needy family happier with gifts of toys, clothes, and a food basket. Scrapbooks for the Children's Ward of Arlington Hospital kept the girls snipping and pasting at their meetings. Speakers informed the members on a variety of subjects which ranged from corsages to vocations. The social schedule was taken care of by many parties, one of the most successful of which was a caroling expedition at Christmas.

BETA HI-Y OFFICERS — Gardner Annis, Secretary, ICC Representative; Henry Irvin, Vice-President; John Bott, President; Dick Burgess, Treasurer; Jim Todd, Chaplain.

This boys' service club has done a fine job at W-L, improving the citizenship and school spirit in many ways. They contributed to the big Thanksgiving Day Football Game by selling the "Beat G.W." signs which decorated so many of the cars. Every member worked hard to make Beta Hi-Y one of the finest organizations at W-L.

GAMMA

To serve W-L and the community constitutes one of the basic ideals of Gamma Tri-Y. Members provided milk and food baskets for needy families, made an afghan for an old folks' home, collected paper dolls and puzzles for children's hospital wards, and contributed to the "Share the Fare" project. But not all was work for the girls in Gamma. A look at their hearty pot luck supper and rollicking informal initiation would have shown anyone what a gay time the girls had at their social affairs.

Alpha Tri-Y members decorate Christmas tree in Washington-Lee's main hall.

ALPHA TRI-Y

A new method of choosing members and a formal initiation program marked the beginning of Alpha Tri-Y's year. Bake sales and soliciting for the heart fund were two of Alpha's contributions to the community. The "Beat G.W." hats which graced so many heads before Thanksgiving were laboriously lettered by the members; and when Christmas rolled around the girls of Alpha got out their decorations and fixed up a tree for the school. This year has truly been a busy one for Alpha Tri-Y.

BETA TRI-Y

The projects of Beta Tri-Y have been varied this year. During the football season the members decorated the goal posts and made "Beat G.W." signs, the club has also sponsored many bake sales, raised money for the Arlington Hospital Building Fund, and helped in the "Toys for Tots" campaign at Christmas time. They have made many contributions to the community and have built a very worthwhile reputation for themselves and the school.

BETA TRI-Y OFFICERS—First Row: Jeanne Kane, Secretary; Miss Dorothy Nelson; Ann Negus, Treasurer. Second Row: Sally McDonald, Vice-President; Sybil Child, Sergeant-at-Arms; Sandy Moyer, ICC Representative.

DELTA TRI-Y OFFICERS—First Row: Connie Smith, Historian; Pat Murphy, Sergeant-at-Arms. Second Row: Katie Stewart, I.C.C.; Beth Basset, Secretary; Mrs. Shurtliff, Sponsor; Mary Frances Tucker, President; Priscilla Cheek, Treasurer.

The members of Delta Tri-Y seek to create, maintain and extend, throughout the community, home, and school, high standards of Christian character. This noble purpose was put in effect this year through such activities as taking toys and books to Junior Village Orphanage, selling T.B. Seals, sponsoring bake sales, filling Christmas Baskets, and carrying out projects for the old folks home at Blue Plains.

KAPPA TRI-Y

The Kappa-Tri-Y has promoted better Christian Service not only in W-L but throughout Arlington County. It has provided food and clothing for needy families and has also decorated Easter Eggs for Arlington Hospital. During the school year the members listened to interesting guest speakers, many of whom are Arlington's leading ministers.

OMEGA TRI-Y

The Greek letter club, Omega Tri-Y, is an organization for girls who wish to create and maintain high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school and community. Service to school and community have been keynotes in the club's program this year. Christmas gave the girls a chance to take happiness and joy to the children at Glendale Sanatorium it the form of a Christmas party. Later in the year they again had a chance to do good by making favors for the war veterans at Arlington Hospital.

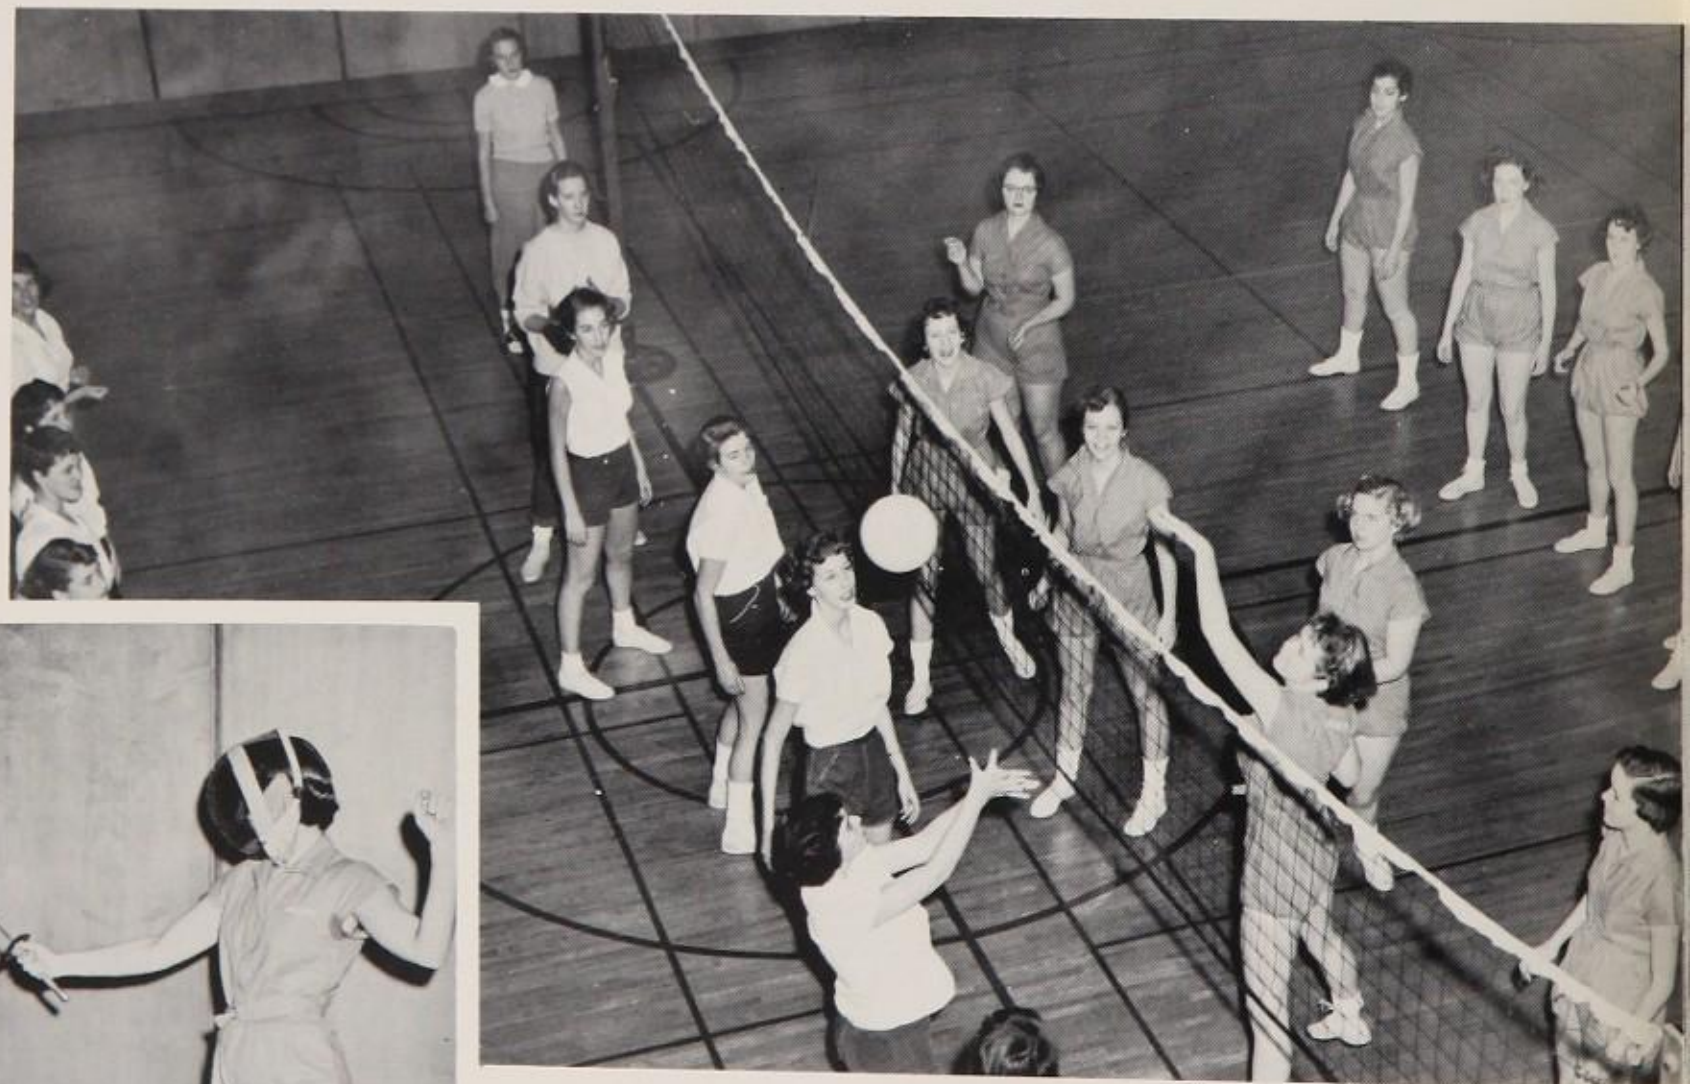
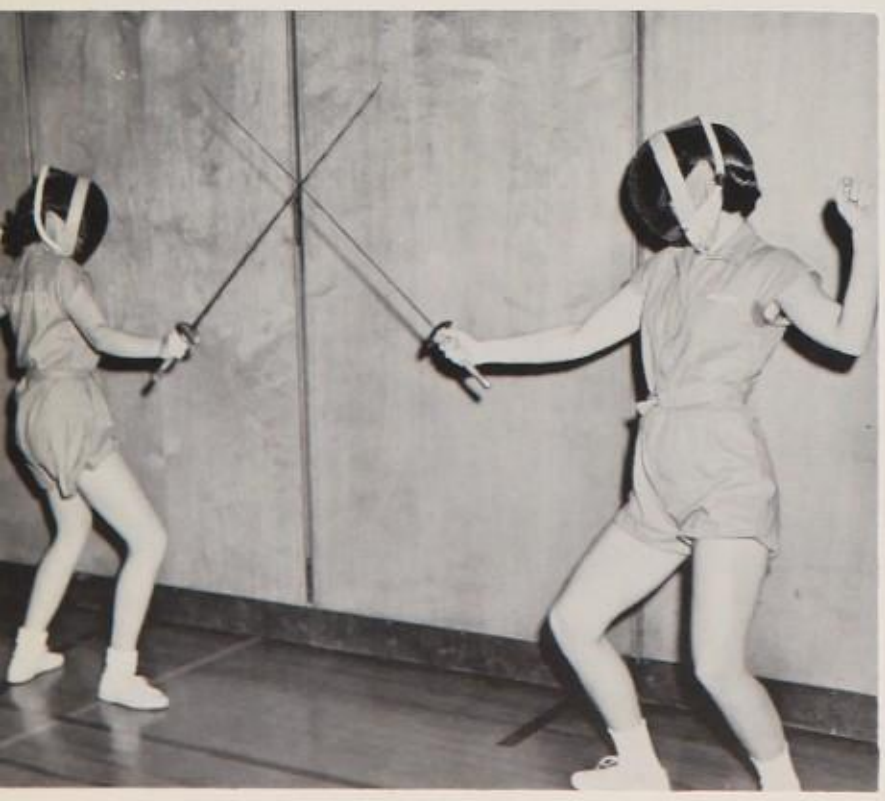
SIGMA TRI-Y

The members of Sigma-Tri-Y spent a useful year serving the community and improving its standards. This was done under the able leadership of Mrs. Annabell Caufield by helping in many ways at the T.B. Sanatorium and Hospital. They met at school regularly to discuss such up to date topics as segregation and dating.



Among the favorite sports of the G.A.A. girls is volley ball. Here the girls line up for an after school game.



A flick of the wrist, a flash of cold steel, and a member of G.A.A. scores another point while practicing the gentlemanly, and womanly, art of fencing.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club sponsored by Miss Ethel Joyner, teaches its members, all library assistants during their free periods, about the many different phases of library science. The club took a trip to the Library of Congress as a part of its quest for new ideas, and made plans for later activities with library assistants of other schools.

OFFICERS—First Row: Gayle Fritschmann, Susan Gardiner, Judy Zeller. Second Row: Miss Ethel Quinn, Alice Peck, Kate Hoyt, Day Chesbro, Miss Mary Mills.

Basketball is one of the major activities of G.A.A. Here Evelyn Murphy passes over the outstretched fingertips of her guard.

G. A. A.

The G.A.A. encourages the girls at W-L to take a greater interest in all types of physical education. Guided by the sponsors, Miss Mary Mills, Miss Ethel Quinn, and Miss Betty Allen, the girls play basketball, volleyball, field hockey, and soccer. Competition also runs high in such individual sports as archery and track and field events. Their opponents are often members of girls' athletic groups from other schools in the area.

VARSITY CLUB

The W-L Varsity Club is one of the most active organizations in school affairs. All boys who have received a varsity letter in any sport may join. The club unites these athletes into a more cohesive group by which the welfare of Washington-Lee is furthered and promoted.

Under the expert leadership of Mr. Pond, boys at Washington-Lee have achieved the know-how of officiating at different sports events. One hour each week is spent in learning rules and putting them to practical use under game conditions. After having mastered the rules the boys are allowed to officiate at Arlington Community Athletic events.

TRAMPOLINE CLUB

The members of the Trampoline Club can well claim "More Bounce to the Ounce" as they live their stringless yo-yo existence learning new stunts and perfecting old ones on the trampoline. As easy as it looks working on the "Tramp" it is a dangerous business and the girls learn all the safety precautions before they attempt the advance tricks.

Here comes Margaret Brewster ."rip-tip-tippying" through the air with the greatest of ease.

PEP CLUB

Determination and great ambition marked the members of the Pep Club as they strove to advance school spirit at Washington-Lee. At a school this size an organization existing for the sake of student morale is a useful group. Publicizing the work of the crew and fighting for more spectators and grandstand spirit for the baseball team were the two big jobs set for the members this year.

OFFICERS—Gay Gladding, President; Sue Gosnell, Vice-President; Penny Diener, Secretary; Ginnabeth Sutterlin, Treasurer.

WELCOME CLUB OFFICERS — First Row: Linda Carter, President Pro Tem; Bobbie Tucker, President; Ellen Stien, Secretary-Treasurer.

WELCOME CLUB

The Welcome Club has taken great strides forward this year and has shown genuine interest in meeting new people and welcoming new students. The main idea behind the Welcome Club is to familiarize newcomers with the different procedures and activities of Washington-Lee. The club makes personal contacts with new students during the school year and also before school begins during the summer. During the year there are many informal receptions for meeting newcomers.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

OFFICERS—First Row: Gabby Brantley, Consul; Nick Carrera, Consul. Second Row: Lynn Everard, Treasurer; Leo Virant, Sergeant-at-Arms; Anne Merrill, Secretary.

The exciting ancient world, wher the Romans ruled all, provides the subject which causes this group of Latin students to gather for discussion and study. They helped themselves by helping each other in their difficulties with the language on which our own speech and many other nations' is based. Real interest in an interesting subject made the Junior Classical League a sure success right from its first meeting.

C. A. R.

The Children of the American Revolution is a group of patriotic W-Lites whose ancestors have fought for the freedom of the United States in the Revolutionary War. The members constantly improved their citizenship by widening their knowledge of American History, learning about and celebrating patriotic anniversaries, preserving historical shrines, and observing strictly the principles for which the revolution was fought.

C.A.R. OFFICERS—First Row: Rachel Lotterhos, Corresponding Secretary; Karen Nance, Historian; Ann Massey, President. Second Row: Davis Cangalosi, Vice-President; Nancy Howard, I.C.C. Representative; Carol Ann Koscielniak, Chaplain; Norma Ward, Treasurer; Chris Fleet, Recording Secretary.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS—Jean Harris, Vice-President; Judy Heller, Secretary; Katie Stewart, President; Lou Wallen, ICC Representative.

The French Club is another active language group at Washington-Lee. It draws its membership from students interested in the French language. Its activities serve as a means to the end of gathering as much knowledge of the Gaelic culture as possible. These activities have included speakers from France, movies, seen both at school and in Washington, and dinners in French restaurants.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

At the intersection of the old building and the new wing is a little shop dealing in everything from pencils to hairpins. It is better known as the school store and everyone at W-L has passed its artistically arranged window. The store is run by the Distributive Education students to serve the school and to help the D.E. Classes gain knowledge by performing the operations of running an actual establishment.

OFFICERS—Jim Horn, Vice-President; Betty Jo Litton, Publicity Chairman; Diane Burling, Treasurer; Jean Betzler, Secretary; Danny May, President.

AUDIO VISUAL CLUB

This club, under the supervision of Miss Ethel Joyner, is equipped to teach all boys how to run, care for, and maintain all equipment used for audio-visual purposes. The members learned how to thread movie projectors, and how to operate the tape recorders and record players.

AMERICAN FOLK SONGS

The American Folk Music Club is arranged to encourage further interest and activity in the field of country music. They have carried this aim out this year by inviting many prominent performers in the field to meetings for discussions and advice. They used what they learned by entertaining groups in school and around the community.

CRIBBAGE AND SCRABBLE CLUB

Deep thought and concentration filled activity period when one of the more unusual and interesting organizations at W-L, the Cribbage and Scrabble Club, met. Every Thursday during activity period this group of dictionary wielding W-Lites gathered to have a great game of cribbage or scrabble.

PENMAN CLUB

The members of the Penman Club are students interested in the fields of writing and magazine publication. They learn how to improve and criticize writing and the mechanics of producing private literary publications. The school magazine, the Penman, serves as an outlet for their writing efforts.

BRIDGE CLUB — GRIFFIN

BRIDGE

BRIDGE CLUB — MRS. SHURTLIFF

W-L is a school where everyone likes to relax in a different way and where a good many prefer to pit wits over a card table. To satisfy this desire for good honest sport there are four Bridge Clubs.

CLUBS

EDDY'S BRIDGE CLUB

BRIDGE CLUB — McCONE

CHESS CLUB

This year's Chess Club spent many happy hours planning mental strategy for their battles across checkered battle-fields. Beginners had a chance to learn the finer points of the game as well as the fundamentals. All this prepared them for the tournaments this spring with other high schools.

CONSERVATION CLUB

The Conservation Club is open to all individuals interested in furthering conservation education here at W-L. Under the direction of Mr. Donald Lewis they participated in such activities as field trips, listening to speakers, viewing films, preparing displays, and a project for the Science Fair.

DISCUSSION CLUB

The ability to discuss intelligently is a valuable asset, and the members of the Discussion Club worked towards gaining this talent through continual practice. Many topics were gone over, members made efforts to increase their working vocabularies, and their polite conversation was worked to a high polish.

First Row: Paula Malinick, Judith Downs, Fred Ryan, Margaret Brewster, Carrie Burchard. Second Row: Richard M. Lee, Kathy Gard, Jane McCorkle, Marcia Angell, Joyce Carter, Tom Drain.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club gives the students of W-L an opportunity to gain practical experience in all the phases of a dramatic production. With the sponsor, Mr. Fisher, the Drama Club members chose two one act plays for production. After the fun and excitement of casting and rehearsals the plays were presented to the public in the spring.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America is a club composed of students interested in teaching. Its purposes include learning about the qualities of a good teacher and opportunities in the teaching field and furthering the development of student leadership. This year each member had many opportunities to observe teaching in other schools. An added attraction of the club is a scholarship offered to a graduating member planning to teach. The club is planning an experimental course in Public School Education in the United States, including seminars, lectures, and observation of classes.

GOLF CLUB

This year the W-L Golf Club once again offered many opportunities to all people interested in golf. Beginners found able instruction, and advanced players got a chance to improve their game. The team built a range under the gym so they could continue practice when the field was too sloppy for outdoor work. This practice helped them win many matches with local clubs.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Better homes make a better America. W-L's group of domesticates worked hard all year to learn and improve their homemaking ability. With an eye to the future these girls studied and learned about the many new developments in kitchenware and equipment. They learned the art of sewing, effortless cleaning, and many other tricks of keeping things neat.

First Row: Marva Bickers, Alberta McCormack, Maria Ecker-Racz, Betty Bagwell, Pat Reyes. Second Row: Pat Farrington, Joann Bagwell, Miss Hall, Carol Jamison, Phyllis Wiley.

FIRE FIGHTERS

The Fire Fighters Club is a praiseworthy group in W-L which serves the school and the community. The aim of its members is to pursue their interest in the fields of fire education, fighting, prevention, and rescue services. The Rescue Squad attended all home football and basketball games and helped with fire drills.

HIKING CLUB

As another school season stepped in at W-L, the Hiking Club prepared to step out. The members, decked out with bandaids and linament, wandered around the countryside enjoying nature. They broadened their interest in outdoor life through these and other equally informative activities.

In order around table: Barbara Johnston, Ann Terborgh, Mary Mansfield, Peggy Ensminger, Pat Farrington, Margaret Fox, Mrs. Robbie Holly, Sponsor.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

The purpose of the International Club is to promote a better understanding of the world through learning about foreign countries. They do this through movies, speakers from the embassies, hearing stories of the members' adventures overseas, and indulging in the pleasant chore of eating foreign food.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The demanding art of photography was the subject explored by this group of amateur lensmen. They sponsored a photography contest to further interest in the skill at W-L. Every phase of the field was learned, from setting the shutter to processing the negatives. Double exposures and other photographic mistakes became rarities as the members became proficient at their art.

KOOL KEY KLIPPERS

The Kool Key Klippers Club offered several opportunities to those students who wished to spend their activity period typing. The club's aim was to improve typing skills. Speed tests, time to type homework for teachers who couldn't read the members' handwriting, and just plain typing for fun filled the list of activities of the club.

NURSES CLUB

Through such worthwhile activities as working in the clinic and seeing and planning practical demonstrations in the field of nursing the Nurses Club developed a lively interest in the temperature taking and bandaging business. Guest speakers, field trips, and numberous buzz sessions gave the members a vivid picture of the life of a nurse.

LEADERS CLUB

"It's in the Rule Book," settles the arguments which arise in the heat of competition. When girls get together for a fast game of basketball, soccer, or any of the other girls' sports there is usually a member of the Leaders Club, the girls' officiating and coaching service at W-L, to serve as official and keep the game honest.

First Row: Esther Tittle, Sharon Scollard. Second Row: Evie Murphy, Lucy Buckner, Leone Wade, Miss Elizabeth Allen, Sponsor.

POSTER CLUB

Making posters for different clubs and dances was the main activity of the Poster Club. The members designed the posters, painted them, and decided where they would be placed. The club enabled interested art students to continue using their talents with the pencil and paint brush in a useful and important way.

MAJORETTES CLUB

First Row: Sandy Burgoon, Secretary; Gerry Dresser, President; Elaine Presgrave, Treasurer. Second Row: Peggy Palmer, Joyce Watkins, Barbara Hansbrough, Ann Seidel, Joan Spaulding, Margi Dean, Carole Christiansen, Virginia Bruder, Alice Van Buskirk, Brenda Corry, Carol Peed, Peggy Maghan. Third Row: Helen Kirkwood, Suzy Curtis, Lola Weible, Carolyn Spell, Connie McDowell, Anita Goodman, Florence Hendrickson, Marguerite Fraber, Jan McKinley, Diana Schillig, Martha Fisher, Sue Smith.

The fancy stepping, baton twirling girls of the Majorettes Club pranced their way through the school year, developing grace, poise, and strong wrists. Many of the difficult tricks of baton were mastered as the year progressed, and the girls all felt they had learned a new skill when school ended.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

This was the psychology club's second year at W-L. Members had a chance to learn more about psychology through discussions and lectures as well as talks on everyday problems. In order to make the subject more vivid they also saw movies and took field trips.

Vice-President

PRO-CON CLUB

NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB

First Row: Garry Wilson, Ray Irwin, Chuck Good, Rod Schmidt, David Gossage, Nelson Rhodes, Bruce Ward, Hobart Means, David Hagland, Phil Gilbert. Second Row: Mr. Spencer, Sponsor; William Schultheis, George Reynolds, Donald Carouthers, Barry O'Neal, Dick Scharlin, Don Hallinger, President; Bill Taylor, Dave Zwerner, Charles Adams, Paul Edwards, Neal Adams, Benny Beach, Lance Parker, Bob Dalziel.

Mr. Roland Spencer works with the Natural Science Club to increase members' interest in the natural sciences. Field trips and expeditions into the realm of nature for bouts with bugs and lizards provided an opportunity to collect data and scientific information which led to the enjoyment and benefit of all the members.

SKETCHING CLUB

From the rasping of pencils and pens on paper came many hours of pleasant relaxation for the members of the Sketching Club. Many pictures lightly slipped from the minds of the artist members and landed in agreeable forms on sheets of paper. They developed their valuable skill through constant, and pleasant practice.

STAMP AND COIN CLUB

A large stock of magnifying glasses, tweezers, gummed hinges, metal polish and strange chemicals helped the members of the Stamp and Coin Club to go about working on their interesting hobby. Bulging albums and thumb-worn coin and stamp catalogues were the record of this club's busy year.

First Row: David Auton, Bob Vance, Jay Bond, Ray Frank, Steve Rudell. Second Row: Bill Roberts, Adolph Edwards, Barrett Swink, Bob Wills, John Young, Colonel Howard Hunter.

TYPING FOR FUN

All students interested in learning and developing the basic fundamentals of typing are eligible to take part in the activities of the Typing For Funners. The club promotes improvement in touch and speed methods as well as the extra practice and instruction which the club offers in the beginning principles of typing.

TRANCEIVERS CLUB

The Tranceivers Club, under the supervision of Mr. Bruno Paras, is open to those students having an interest in electronics and short wave transmitting. This year the club members learned the Morse code and got started in ham radio work. A short wave transmitter, K4BGA, has been the result of the activity of this far from static organization.

KEY CLUB

Flashing Knees and rustling grass skirts filled the gym when the Key Club put on its annual Hawaiian Dance. This was just one of the activities of this civic minded boys' club. Social picnics and picking a Key Club Queen were also events on the lighter side. Distributing Easter Seal Cans, cleaning car windows for the Community Chest Campaign and helping in the Cancer Fund drive were some of the ways the boys demonstrated their right to be called good citizens.

FASHION AND MODELING CLUB

Every Thursday the Fashion and Modeling Club met in the Little Theater to enjoy fashion shows, guest speakers, and to receive practical criticism on their own modeling technique, all aimed to further the girls' knowledge of modeling and self-improvement.

Speakers from the field of cosmetics and fashion schools provided several entertaining and educational programs for these fashion minded girls. Mrs. Purcell and Mrs. Dryer sponsored the club which has proved to be one of the most popular at W-L.

FASHIONS AND MODELING CLUB—OFFICERS: Joyce Hough, Treasurer; Phyllis Koberg, Vice-President.

HOMEMAKING FOR GIRLS

Looking into the future, the girls of the Homemaking Club prepared themselves by learning and practicing the essentials of homemaking. Problems concerning cooking, sewing, and how to be a good hostess were solved. Each member brough a project which interested her and, through the guidance and instruction of Miss Greenaway, completed her work.

The Penman year started off with a bang. The first project was to publish the Student Directory sooner than ever before; next the difficult job of selecting the editor and staff for the forthcoming year was accomplished. The annual Sock Hop and the first issue's publication followed closely behind. The ever present deadline came up too fast, as always. Articles, stories, and poems to be selected and publicity to be taken care of were all part of the staff's life.

The second dance, the February Frolic, was a big success; top-notch entertainment added to the fun. Finally came the publication of the last three issues. It was a busy year, educational and enjoyable, and satisfying.

The BLUE

A yearbook is quite a thing, as the staff of the 1955 Blue and Gray discovered. During the first few weeks the staff was kept reasonably busy organizing. The Board of Editors selected a Chairman, an Editor was chosen for the new School Life section, everyone offered ideas, usually conflicting, on the cover design, and the problem of where to put the Senior activities was discussed at great length. This was the beginning of what turned out to be the busiest year in these amateur book-publishers' and journalists' high school life.

and GRAY

As the days and weeks slipped rapidly by, the staff became very active, scheduling pictures, trying to find good informals reasonably typical of W-L, and checking names. The new type of sales program was most successful, the publicity staff had to work long and hard to keep the progress charts on the bulletin board up to date; the staff began to get the feeling that they were turning out the best yearbook ever printed. The deadline on the Faculty and Administration was met; everyone took a week's vacation from typing, and picture and name matching.

The classes proved to be a rather overwhelming section. Layout after layout was sketched and rejected, this one was too old-fashioned that one was too modern, eventually a set-up agreeable to everyone was planned. Matching the faces of two-thousand-odd students with properly spelled names proved to be quite a job. For the first time in many years the Class Section was finished by Activities, Sports, School Life, and Ads all had the same deadline, as the time drew near there was some question of finishing on time. Nights and weekends were turned over to working on the annual, finally it was all finished. The staff, now veterans of the publishing field, rolled out of their journalistic shells and became students again satisfied with the fact that they had turned out a true record of the school year.

A deadline is an exciting event, and the staff of the Crossed Sabres had their share of excitement this year. Every two weeks a thoughtful, but far from silent, group of imaginative student journalists gathered in room 100 for a brief period of proof-reading, headline tailoring, and story stretching and reducing. On the off-week, if there ever was such a time, the staff was kept busy planning and assigning stories to be rewritten, perfected, and typed before the next deadline.

The deadline draws near; Room 100 buzzes with activity as the staff members do layouts, check copy, count words and write headlines.

Between their journalistic efforts the staff sponsored the annual Thanksgiving Turkey Hop which boasted two queens, the Football lovely and Miss Crossed Sabres. T.V. Disk Jockey Art Lamb placed the crown on the Varsity's choice, and Crossed Sabres Feature Editor, Len Willems, did the deed for the paper.

Working on a newspaper is a course in itself, but it's more than education. There is the responsibility of locating and printing the facts so the student body will know what's going on in their school community.

The Orchestra does an outstanding job of representing W-L by performing as a group. The introduction of good music to "would be" musicians is an outstanding feature of this group which meets sixth period every day. Other appearances included the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies and the Annual Spring Concert.

MARCHING BAND

Dottie Demboski, Janet McKinley, Sandy Burgoon, Sue Wittington, Florence McNeil, Martha Fisher, Jerry Dresser, Janet Schoolcraft, Sue Smith, Betty Whitley.

AND MAJORETTES

Throbbing drums, blaring brass, and crashing cymbals — the components of the group everyone appreciates and loves—a marching band. In rhythmic cadence W-L's group marched through the school year, led by ten high stepping majorettes. It is just like any other band, a little better perhaps, and, at the more casual practice sessions, the loudest, but they have used their music to blast themselves right into the heart of W-L.

CONCERT BAND

The Concert Band acquaints students with classical as well as popular and martial music from which they acquire a good understanding of rhythm, quality and color of various musical instruments. The highlight of the program this year was the Annual Spring Concert. A vital part of the music department of W-L, the band presented several assemblies, attended the Music Festival held in Annandale, and took part in several other activities.

CONCERT BAND OFFICERS: Joe Thompson, Vice-President in charge of Winds; Harry Geib, President; Evelyn Jacobs, Secretary; Bill LaRue, Vice-President in charge of Brass.

The "Mads" moved through the school year at a rapid pace. After two summer rehearsals they aided in the Sophomore orientation assembly, giving the Class of '57 a melodious start. Many concerts helped spread their fame — Christmas brought the Candlelight Service and caroling expeditions, spring arrived and the "Mads" greeted it with a special concert, Easter was observed at the Sunrise service at the National Memorial Park, and when the end of the year threatened, they toured the junior high schools, preparing the Class of '58 for its high school career. This was the "Mads" year, busy, musical, and educational.

This year, as aspiring songsters have done for years, nervous groups filed in and out of the Music Department as Choir tryouts progressed. Competition ran high among the finest voices at W-L as the Choir was carefully put together. Always ready to perform when called upon, the group draws great and varied choral experience. The Candlelight Concert at Christmas has become so popular that this year two performances were required to satisfy the school's harmonic appetite. The Choir's musical members ended their busy school year by presenting the Spring Concert with their usual success.

MIXED CHORUS

Members of the Mixed Chorus practice during the second period under the direction of Miss Mary Lou Alexander.

The Mixed Chorus accomplished many things in its efforts to have fun singing and to sound good at the same time. Voices raised in musical harmony drew the members closer together, occasional sour notes tended to give the members a closer companionship in the inevitable errors. The sour notes came only in rehearsal, for on the stage the group showed great stagemanship and showmanship; they were always easy to listen to.

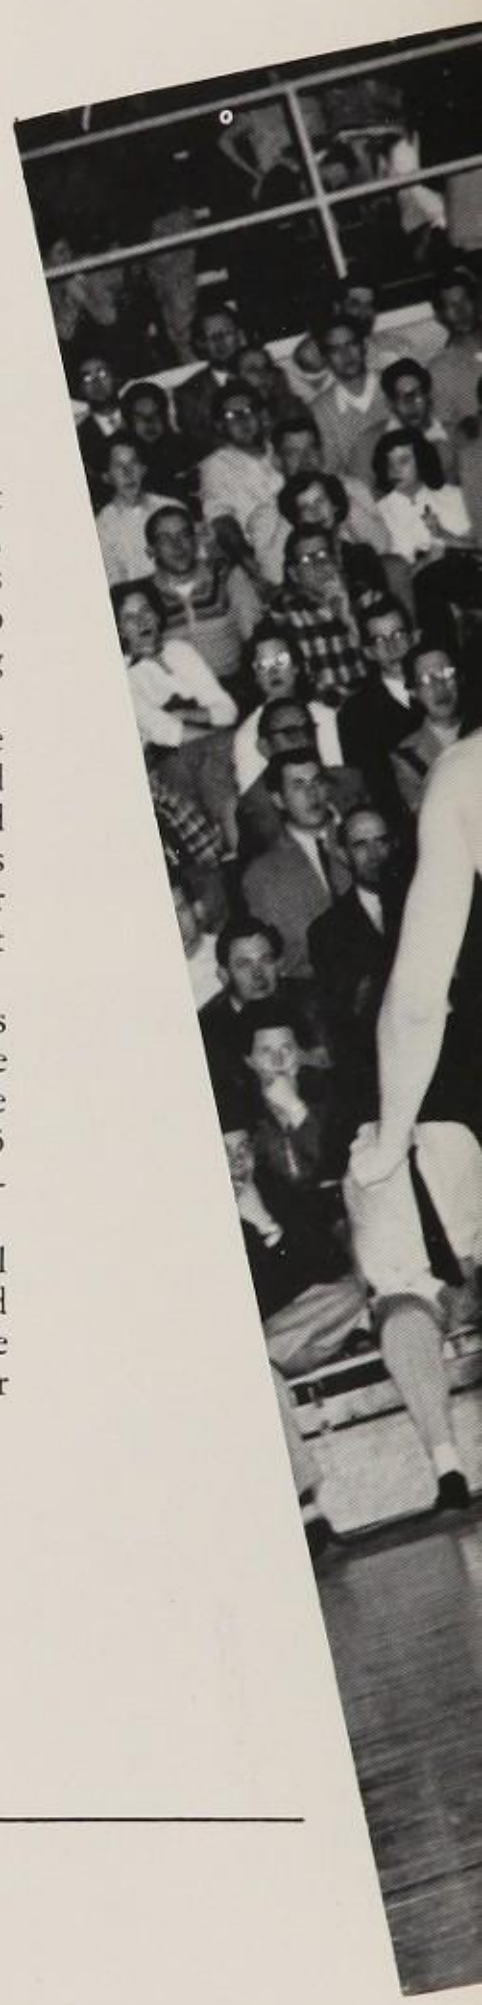
GIRLS CHORUS

Faces reflect sincere efforts to hit the right note as Miss Mary Lou Alexander leads the Girls' Chorus in a verse of one of their favorite songs.

Feminine voices, rising and falling in close harmony, sometimes breaking into parts, singing songs with rhythm, and feeling is what the W-L Girls' Chorus is best at. Their voices made pleasant listening at the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies, at every place they sang. Many hours of exhausting practice, under the tireless direction of Miss Mary Lou Alexander, brought the girls to a rich perfection of tone and stage appearance which added to their fine quality.

Sports



Just as studies point the way along the paths of mental development, so the athletic program shows us the value of a healthy body and a sense of fair play. To be valuable, such a program must reach a large part of the student body. By this yardstick W-L's Athletic Department measures up well. Sportsminded W-Lites can find many ways to occupy their time, whether they be engaged in interscholastic competition or just fighting for the honor of the dear old homeroom.

W-L through the years has become a name to be respected and admired in the field of athletic competition. Thinking about this, one realizes that such respect is gained through the combination of many factors, among them school policy, the coaches, and the athletes themselves. The school's support of the program is visible when one realizes the way it has promoted expansion. Varsity competition in tennis and wrestling, for instance, is part of a new look whose purpose is to develop the skills of the greatest number of students.

Through the building up of that intangible something called tradition, W-L has become deeply associated with Arlington County. When one thinks of Arlington, he also thinks of W-L. This brings to mind the uniqueness of the teams that upheld the Blue and Gray this year. It is with perhaps a touch of sadness that one realizes that 1955 marks the last year in which boys came from all parts of our community to mold themselves under the single name "Generals."

Yet it is not entirely with misgivings that one considers this, for it is only natural that W-L be considered the hub of a great wheel, sending out spokes to Wakefield and high schools still to come. Along these spokes will travel the tradition, the spirit, and the sportsmanship that makes up our school, helping to further weld the community together by building the character of its youth.

About Our Cheerleaders

Having practised all summer, the excitement and spirit of the football season really came through in September, with the wildly exciting pep rallies staged by the cheerleaders. One terrific pep rally was sponsored by the Hecht Company, on the roof of Parkington.

"Dirty bucks," compliments of Hahns, were a new innovation featured by the cheerleaders this year.

Cute eight year old Kathy Adams served as mascot, complete with white skirt and sweater.

The Thanksgiving Day Game build-up began. That crazy "Powder Puff Pep Rally," poking fun at the team, helped build enthusiasm. The annual Bon Fire, sponsored by the Beta Club, was a huge success, even though the cheerleaders found that "the price of glory was singed ringlets." All the girls worked hard on the float, but the rain that night nearly "floated" all that hard work away. The Cheerleaders were envied by everybody as they drove around in that beautiful red Pontiac convertible. Everybody had a wonderful time at that terrific banquet at Paul Cundiff's home, given for the team and the cheerleaders.

The Fall Sports Banquet was held on one most memorable night. Though the girls nearly walked their feet off serving as waitresses, they enjoyed every minute of it.

Swish! In came basketball. The spirit at those fabulously thrilling G.W. games was really terrific. Nevertheless, those nights down in Richmond at the State Tournament, where the team placed second, were the greatest of all.

The memories of all the games, the heartbreaks, the victories, and the spirit of W-L will be long remembered. All these memories will dwell in the hearts of the cheerleaders forever.

The Girls in Action

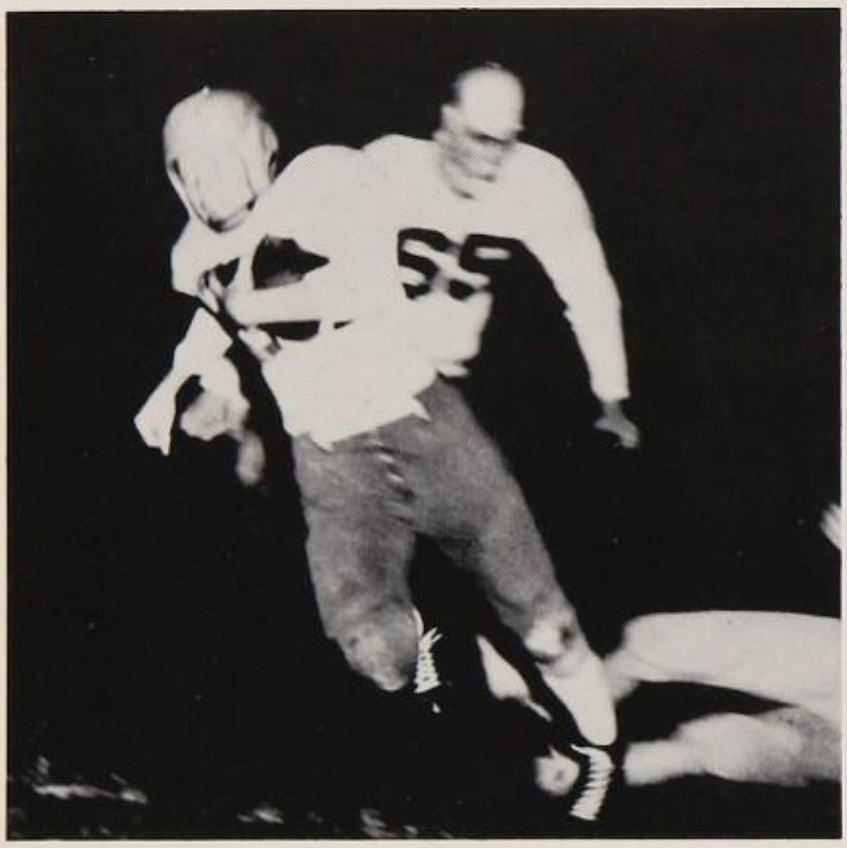
Powerful Offense Rolls Up 202 Points in Ten Games.



Halfback John Meroney heads for the wide open spaces in this scene from the Bladensburg game. and Tom Bransford (65) appear ready to hamper any Bladensburg aefensive efforts.

MERONEY'S 9 TD'S LEADS SCORERS

The 1954 football Generals can look back with pride on their season. Their record of six wins and four losses is misleading, to say the least. One needs only to see that W-L outscored its opponents by almost 2 to 1 to realize that each win was clearcut and that the losses were close, hardfought, and honorable.

Stubby John Meroney, hard-running halfback, headed up a potent scoring punch by crossing the goal line nine times. Operating with him in going over, around and through opposing linemen, were Art Eberdt, classy field general and place-kicker, powerful fullbacks Jerry Whitehouse and Paul Lewis, and a trio of fleet halfbacks in Tom Calhoun, Dave Leffler, and Russ Norman. In there to throw his southpaw passes when needed was sparkplug quarterback, "Muggers" Simpson.

Up front, sometimes throwing a key block, sometimes bringing down an enemy ball carrier, are the unsung heroes of any team, the linemen. The forward wall was outweighed in many games, but what it lacked in weight was made up for in spirit and drive. From the "lightweight" ends, Tom Bransford and Jerry Hite, on into the middle, the keynote was maneuverability. Powerful blocking of guards Swift, Seese, and of tackle Jim Palmer was evident all season.

W-L's defensive game was at its best when the chips were down. Called to mind particularly are the Wilson of Portsmouth and St. John's games. Looking from all angles, one could see Tommy Schlaak tying up plunges from his middle guard spot, Bransford, Howes, and Brown picking off fumbles and stopping sweeps, and Beaty, Wrinkle, Burroughs, and Netzer as bulwarks of strength behind the lines.

Perhaps the most heartening thing about the team this year was the never-say-die spirit evinced by the second-half comeback against G. W. As long as this spirit is evident, W-L can ask for no finer representative on the gridiron.

The men behind the scenes in W-L's football success: head coach, Bob Waldorf; line coach and trainer, Mike Millan; backfield coach, Chappie Marvin; jayvee coach and scout, Harvey Shipman.

W-L 26—FAIRFAX 7: It's W-L all the way as the Generals score in every quarter. Whitehouse and Meroney lead group of hard-charging backs. Heavier Fairfax line outplayed by Generals' forward wall. Guards Swift, Seese, and Cundiff do a particularly good job of downfield blocking for an opening game.

W-L 18—NORTHWESTERN 6: Generals invade Hyattsville and successfully tame the Wildcats. Meroney begins to show his All-Northern Virginia form as he, Russ Norman and Tom Calhoun all hit paydirt. W-L's alert defensive line show up well in rushing punts and the offensive wall does a fine job of unleashing our fleet backs. Spectacular blocks by Bill Swift and Paul Cundiff spring Calhoun loose on longest run of evening.

W-L 0—ST. JOHN'S 13: W-L's high-scoring backfield is halted by heavier St. John's line. Light General forward wall plays courageous game in holding down hard-charging Johnnie backs. Simpson's southpaw tosses spark scoring threat late in the game. Warren Beaty and Davis Wrinkle are towers of strength as defensive linebackers.

W-L 34—GONZAGA 13: Rampaging Generals bounce back from St. John's game as fleet backs run wild. Meroney and Whitehouse score two apiece, and Burroughs nips off a loose ball from his linebacker spot for the final tally. Powerful blocking of Jim Palmer is especially apparent on offense. W-L line, especially Ed Brown and Tom Bransford, looks very alert in recovering fumbles and rushing Gonzaga punters and passers. Bill Howes stops Gonzaga's dangerous transcontinental passes.

W-L 0—PORTSMOUTH 14: Presidents' State Champions churn out win over stubborn Generals. Shifty David Ames does all scoring with two touchdowns in first half. Tommy Hyde's 38.6 yard punting average does much to keep Portsmouth out of W-L territory. The defensive unit, led by Tom Schlaak, excells in the second half, holding the downstate team to a standstill.

Managers Malcolm Annis and Red Boyd and adult manager Jerry Lizak are caught by the camera in their hideout, the equipment room.

End of the line for Mike Agee, G.W. quarterback, as Co-captain Paul Cundiff closes in for the tackle.

W-L 47—MOUNT VERNON 6: Generals outdo Hurricane Hazel with whirlwind attack. Reserves play most of game. Depth and speed of second and third stringers is obvious as they do most of scoring. Zehring, the Majors fine quarterback, puts on an aerial attack late in the fourth quarter, but by then the die was cast in favor of the Generals.

W-L 35—BLADENSBURG 0: Winning ways continue as Generals roll over Mustangs. Reserves again show up well. Line plays alert game, constantly forcing Bladensburg to punt out of trouble.

W-L 7—THOMAS JEFFERSON 19: Jeffs bring strong passing attack up from Richmond to overcome fighting Generals. Game is marked by intercepted passes and fumbles. W-L comes back from 19-0 deficit in last quarter with fleet Ernie Cox going 85 yards for a touchdown. Mike Netzer, the standout defensive linebacker, is injured and lost to team for rest of season.

Jerry Hite
Right end

Art Eberdt
Quarterback

W-L 21—HAMPTON 0: Generals score second shutout of season as Meroney, Calhoun, and Whitehouse lead attack against Crabbers. Generals pass defense looks much improved as Hampton completes only 6 of 21. Forward wall is alert in recovering all four Crabber fumbles.

W-L 14—GEORGE WASHINGTON 27: 12,000 fans see Generals brilliant 2nd half comeback fall short of the mark. Agee, Bernhard and Garda give Presidents' 20-0 halftime lead. Meroney sparks W-L drive with twisting 97 yard sprint down sidelines to open 3rd quarter. A jump pass from Eberdt to Hite and a long run by Lewis put the ball on the two where Meroney again hits paydirt to make score 20-14. Darley's 4th quarter TD pass to Garda ends the scoring and again leaves G. W. in possession of the Old Oaken Bucket.

J.V. Gridders Post Undefeated Season

The junior varsity footballers are the boys who form the backbone of future varsity teams. The '55 junior Generals must then be a source of joy to Coach Waldorf, for they gave obvious indication of future football prowess. Under the leadership of the jovial Mr. Harvey Shipman, the jayvees romped over six opponents and played the Wakefield varsity to a 6-6 tie. Like "Ole Man River" they just kept rolling along, scoring 157 points while holding their opponents to 24 points.

Depth and speed characterized the offensive effort this season. Kirk Wooley, Steve Reid, and hurdler Bob Short headed up a flashy backfield. Chuck Davis stepped into Bob Manser's quarterback position when the latter broke his arm and showed himself to be a worthy replacement. Out there to snag the tosses of Manser and Davis were rangy ends Tom Haskell, Ken Murray, and Harry Schiavone. Patterned after the varsity's maneuverable line, the jayvees forward wall consisted of such comparatively lightweight stalwarts as Dave Mitchell, Al Richmond, and Dave Brueckner.

Kirk Wooley, junior fullback, was chosen the most valuable player by his teammates. A transfer student from Baltimore, he played a particularly outstanding game in the Armistice Day thriller with Wakefield.

Manager Don Hallinger repairs a pair of cleats while his cohorts, Fred Grover and Bill Johnson, eye a clipboard thoughtfully.

Harriers Capture State Crown

For the third straight year, W-L's cross-country team outdistanced all rivals for the Virginia State Championship. This fine record is indeed a tribute not only to the boys who participated in this grueling sport but also to their coach, the ever-popular Mr. Albert Haringer. During the past three years, cross-country has become an increasingly popular sport. Particularly heartening has been the large sophomore turnout which adds to the assurance of continually top-flight teams.

This year's hill-and-dalers stood out individually as well as collectively. Seniors Bob Borsody, Captain Bill Hunter, and Hugh Logan, junior Gary Fritschmann and sophomore flash Frank Colavita consistently loped across the line ahead of their opponents. Other underclassmen who showed promise this season were junior Bob Bourke and sophomores Mike Bourke, Ed Vogel, and Ray Watson.

From the opening meet with Fairfax until the State Meet in Richmond, the one thing obvious at all times was team spirit. From the pre-race huddle to the shouts of congratulation at the end, the team was a solid unit. Always remembered will be the friendliness of manager Bob Larrick, the leadership and wisecracks of Hunter and State Champion Borsody, and the kindly guidance of Coach Haringer.

Cagers Place Second in State Tournament

Nipped in Finals

By Jefferson Sr.

The 1955 State Group I Basketball Tournament saw a hustling, come-from-behind Washington-Lee five fight its way to the finals only to be eked out for the crown by Jefferson Senior High of Roanoke, 42-41. Yes, that was a heartbreaking goal that Jeff sub, Walter Howard, pushed through with scant seconds remaining. These two top teams had battled on even terms all during the game and the fourth quarter had started with the Generals ahead by a slight margin. Time after time, Wooldridge and Palmer had out-jumped Jefferson's 6-foot-8 Dick Kepley and Jim, along with Sonny Dugan, was splitting the cords with great consistency.

For the Generals this close kind of game seemed to be old stuff. Twice before in the tourney they had pulled out remarkable, last-ditch wins. Bobby Brown's lay-up, you remember, decided the opener with E. C. Glass in the last 8 seconds. Al Baldwin's rebound toss-in gave W-L a win over stubborn Woodrow Wilson in the last second. So, that was the set-up. The fourth quarter was a repeat of the first three, neck-and-neck until that fateful shot which gave the Jeffs the game.

COACH RALPH GUINTHER

Co-Captain Sonny Dugan goes in for two points, much to the dismay of surrounding G.W. cagers.

Looking back on it all, though, it is obvious that this team deserves nothing but highest praise. From the opening game with Randolph-Macon to the closing game of the State tourney the General cagers displayed the kind of heads-up spirit that made everyone sit up and take notice.

The season had had its share of highlights and thrills before the tournaments even got underway. From a revenge angle perhaps the sweetest victories were those two over arch-rival G. W. General basketballers were awarded spots on various honorary teams. Jim Wooldridge, Sonny Dugan, and Phil Palmer copped positions on the first team All-Northern Virginia squad while Tommy Bransford, Al Baldwin, and Bob Haines received honorable mention. The State tourney saw co-captains Jim and Sonny score again with first-team berths while big Phil was awarded a second-team spot.

Although the boys deserve credit, let's not forget Coach Guinther and his able assistant, Mr. Morris Levin, who produced such a fine team this year. They are a credit to W-L.

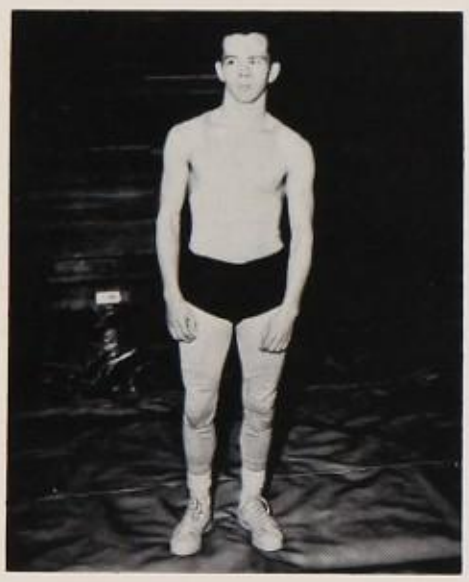
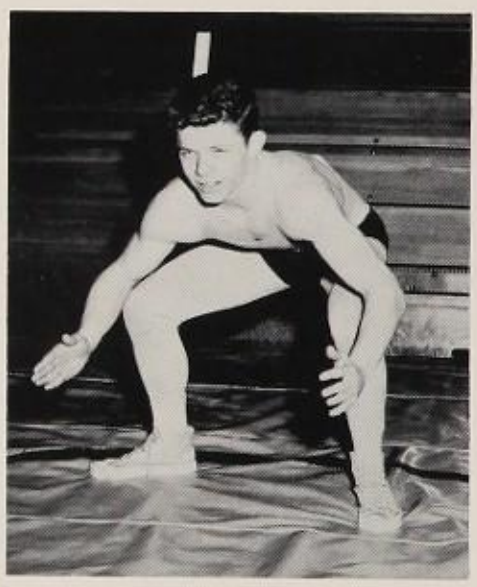
MIKE LOWE—112 lbs.



RUSS NORMAN—122 lbs.

CURLY HOBBS—122 lbs.



BILL PLAYER—129 lbs.

A sport new here at W-L got off to a bang-up start as the wrestling team, led by Coach Norman Propst, rolled up seven straight wins during the regular season. This record is even more remarkable when one realizes that the opponents they faced were far more experienced than they.

The call for tryouts resulted in a somewhat disappointing response, but as the season progressed, the addition of footballers Russ Norman, Phil Gilbert, and Jerry Whitehouse helped the cause immensely. For match competition, Coach Propst fielded a team of boys ranging from 105 pounds to heavyweight. In cases where there were several boys in a weight class, preliminary matches were held to determine who would compete in the week's match. This system worked very well in that it served to keep the boys in top shape from week to week.

On February 26, the General grapplers took on the best teams in Virginia in the State Tournament at Charlottesville. Captain Jim Wood continued his winning ways by nailing down second place in his weight class.

Certainly a point to think about is the fact that W-L produced an undefeated team in its first year of interscholastic wrestling. In other words, watch this team go next year!

Nine Opens With G. W.

The 1955 baseball Generals open their season on March 29 with arch-rival George Washington. This game promises to be a good test of conditioning for Coach Morton's boys, who have been practicing since the winter months.

Bolstering the hopes for another Northern Virginia Championship is the return of nine varsity lettermen. Back from the mound staff are Ed Johnson and Dave Brown while outfielders Howes, Palmer, and Netzer are also on hand again. The infield seems solid with Don Goddard at third, Sonny Dugan or Buzz Bushong at short, and slugger Dave Urbanske at first base. Up from the junior varsity and battling for the job at the keystone sack are Bob Brown and Tom Roelofs. Expected to add insurance to the mound staff are juniors, Weeks, Marcey, and Padgett. It looks like another good season for Coach Morton's crew.

The Intramural Program: Sports for Everyone

As usual, the intramural program went over with a bang this year. Those boys not out for a varsity sport found intramurals just the things for competition and relaxation. Touch football started things off and basketball came soon after. The games were played at night which solved the after-school activities problem. Another idea for homeroom competition was marked by the volleyball tournament.

Helping out in an advisory capacity this year were faculty members Pond, Morton, and Lewis. Officers of the class leagues this year were: President of Intramurals, John Steele; Senior League President, Don Chamberlain; Junior League President, Mike Casper; Sophomore League President, Pete Kresky.

Some fast and furious action in a touch football game. The question is, who's got the ball?

School Life

Without its multitude of individuals W-L would just be another place. There would be no school life, none of that intangible known as "school spirit;" no one to proudly be called a "W-Lite."

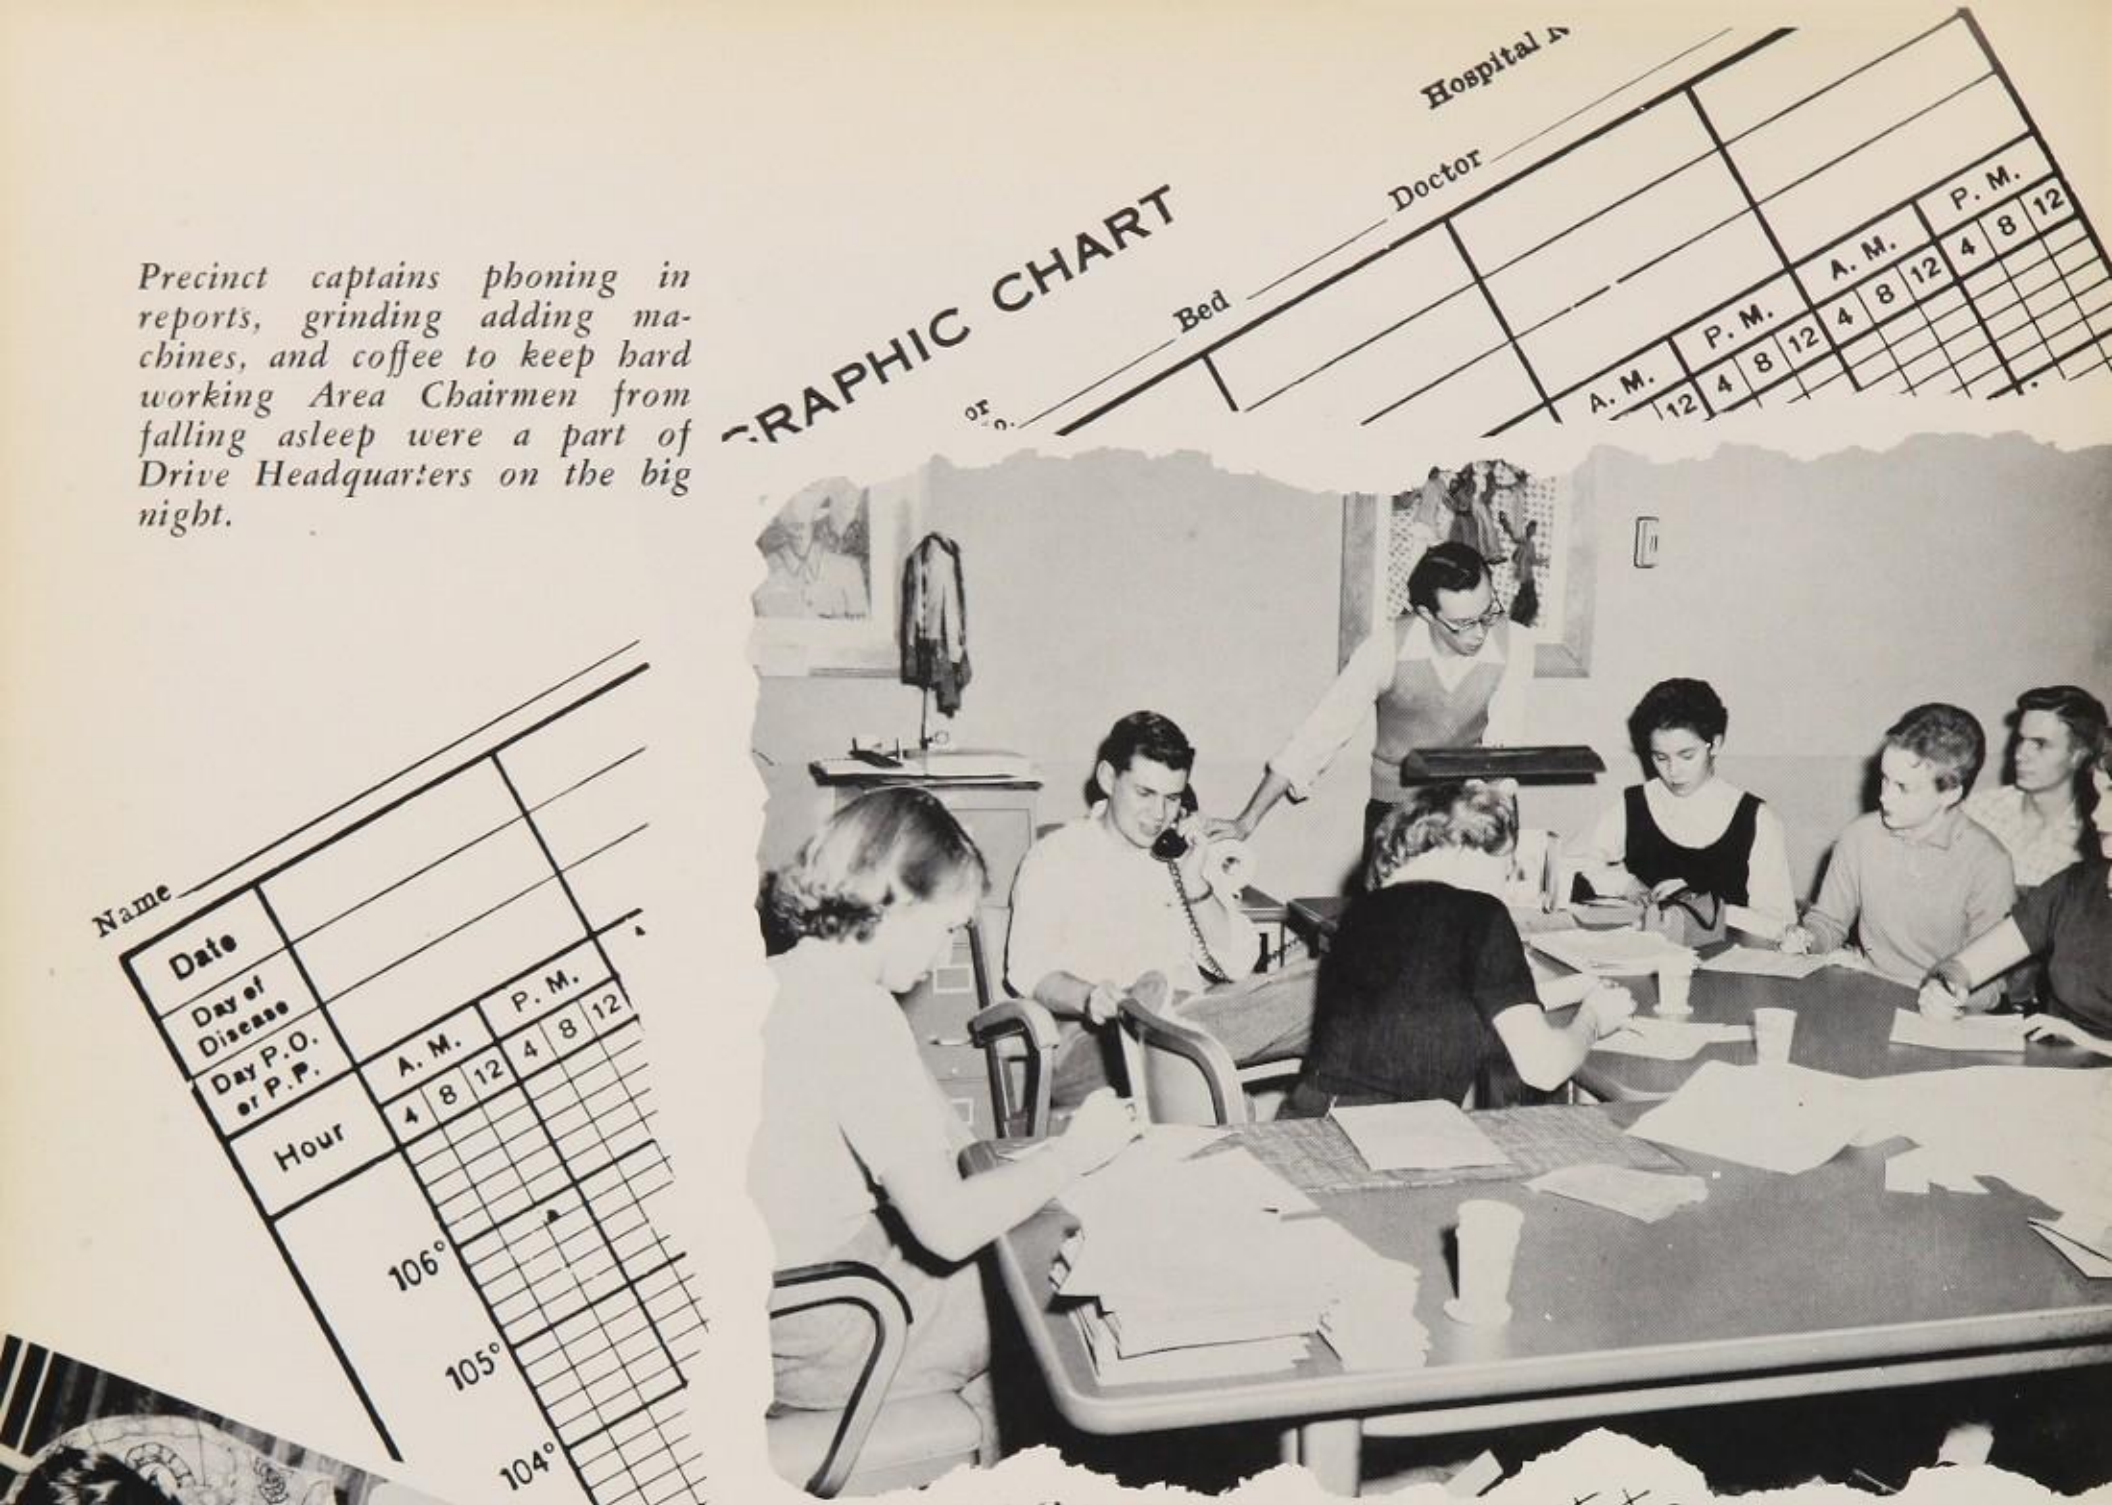
To use a well-worn cliche, "It takes all kinds of people to make a world." So it is with a school; so it is with Washington-Lee. Everyone knows the little quirks of their friends, and many have heard about the peculiarities of people they have never met. There is the wide-awake student who carries instant coffee to his first period chemistry class; there are the groups of talking girls who gather in the middle of crowded halls to discuss everything under the sun in spite of the risk of being run down by the student who is inanely late for class; there are the cigarette bums in the smoking area; the guys who spend their lunch period with their heads under the hood of a car — all these are individuals. They're not all what could be called outstanding individuals, but they're as much a part of W-L as the journalists, actors, set designers, artists, as any one of the groups the administration displays with pride to the community. They all are the basis of student life.

The individual is the basis for the dances, plays, publications. Everything that happens within the walls of Washington-Lee is part of school life. Students work at their studies all day, and then come back at night prepared to carry out these important facets of school life.

The night before the Thanksgiving Day Football Game found students in the gym decorating for a dance. The night of the Hospital Fund Drive saw more than a thousand students canvassing the county for funds. For weeks before a play students spent their evenings building scenery and rehearsing lines.

This, then, is school life. Two thousand individuals engaged in having a good time, learning through coping with real situations, and accomplishing the tasks given them. No compass is complete without a needle to point North, no student is complete without a goal, a goal chosen by him, and accomplished through cooperation with the faculty and his fellow individualists.

Precinct captains phoning in reports, grinding adding machines, and coffee to keep hard working Area Chairmen from falling asleep were a part of Drive Headquarters on the big night.



Three precinct captains compare boundaries weeks before the actual drive to prevent embarrassing overlappings.

HOSPITAL DRIVE

Wailing sirens, people running from one place to another looking very efficient except for one thing — there weren't enough of them. The hospital, Arlington Hospital, was understaffed and overcrowded. This news was carried to Washington-Lee and from a spark of a suggestion, planning of fever pitch broke into a $40,000 success. Three thousand students from four high schools, led by W-L, covered all of Arlington and a good part of two other counties in three hours of collection. Washington-Lee had led the way in another display of teenage responsibility.

On paper an architect's dream, a county's dream, and with W-L's help, a dream closer to reality—an Arlington Hospital serving the area adequately.

Two successful solicitors, John Meroney and Donna Bransford, give Precinct Captain Helen Keely encouraging additions to her report.

GRAPHIC CHART

VARIETY SHOW

A circus is a magic spell — a dream of roving spotlights, a blaring band and happy music, popcorn and peanuts; color in motion. The W-L Circus was no different. After weeks of polishing and rehearsal the most talented of the school's show folk paraded into the big center ring and did their best for an appreciative audience. Campbell Gym was a circus tent for one spectacular night, and the community loved it.

Jeanne Kane leads a stampede of cheerleaders to demonstrate G.W.'s style at the game.

GIVING

Thanksgiving is an important occasion, from the solemnity of the assembly to the gaiety and happiness of the Turkey Hop. W-Lites follow it through in a big way.

They wrestle with scotch tape and crepe paper, attaching balloons, signs, and other paraphanalia to every conceivable place on their automobiles to be admired with generous criticism by crowds of kibitzers. The car caravan, a line of gaily decorated vehicles defying classification, start out early Thanksgiving morning in the direction of W-L's traditional rival, G.W. of Alexandria.

When the game was fought, and lost by a narrow margin, lugubrious groups of W-Lites retired to their homes to find solace in meals of gargantuan proportions. The long afternoon drags by slowly; girls finish arranging themselves for the dance; boys gather in little groups to replay the game tackle by tackle.

Finally comes the big dance; everyone is cheered by the presence of others; they find happiness again in swaying around a dance floor as soft music fills the gym. The day of fun and feasts is over.

A fanfare of applause accompanies Miss Crossed Sabres, Lois Garino and her escort, Johnny Van Horn to the throne.

Shep Morgan takes a bow after presenting his prize-winning speech on the United States Constitution.

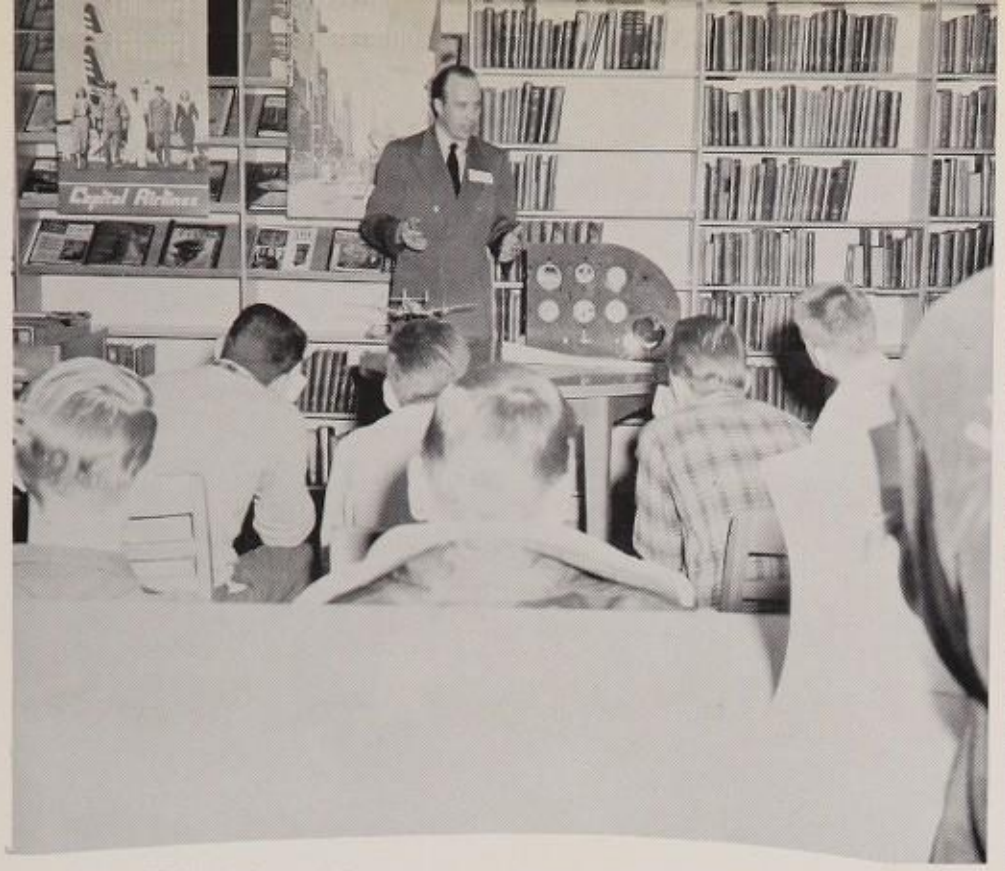
W-L's big athletic year starts out with a rousing pep rally.

ASSEMBLIES

Each Tuesday either a portion or all of the student body is brought out of class rooms to enjoy assemblies. Including all phases of school life, assemblies run the gamut of subjects, types, and presentations. Some present to the students ideas, others acquaint them with life outside school while others are designed to entertain. W-Lites will remember especially the American Legion Assembly which culminated hours of studying the Constitution, the "nothing but terrific" assemblies from our Music Department, the Pep Rallies, and the exciting election assemblies.

As Betty Root is framed, Ann Read takes the part of a confused Sophomore in the Sophomore Orientation Assembly.

Senior politicians vie through short speeches for the office of Senior Senator.



Models and displays help an experienced pilot show future "fly-guys" the advantages of being an aviator.

The field of art is carefully described for aspiring artists by an expert in the field.

CAREER DAY

Just as W-Lites converge from the points of the compass, when they leave, they will diffuse in many more. Some go directly to careers, jobs, or marriage, many go to places of higher learning. To aid the student in choosing the right place, be it college or career, two "compass needles" act as guides. College Night, bringing with it representives of 45 schools, enabled students to gain an insight into the campus life and academic studies of various colleges and universities. W-Lites also drew dividends from Career Day, a program designed to acquaint students with the "ins and outs" of doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief.

COLLEGE NIGHT

Choosing a college is serious business, even with the help of a representative.

Enthusiasm and carefully chosen facts help college-bound W-Lites make their decision.

Christ

By the middle of December, the Christmas Spirit, that intangible glow, had taken Washington-Lee. Anticipation of the festivities seemed like an enormous snowball, rolling and gathering and increasing in speed at each turn. Provisions were made for the Christmas baskets, preparation for the holiday parties was in full swing, rehearsals for the Christmas Assembly and Candlelight Service had begun, and homerooms had already begun to vie for the most elaborate door decorations. It seemed as though anything to come would be an anti-climax to the excited hustle-bustle anticipation of the day. However, the daze that followed brought with them a maze of parties, the long remembered Christmas Candlelight Service, and the gala Alumni Dance. The summit of the Christmas Season at W-L was the beautiful Christmas Assembly portraying the "Christ" in Christmas. As the Choir finished "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," shuffling feet pushed their way home for the holidays murmuring a quiet amen to W-L's Christmas Season, rollicking, festive and solemn.

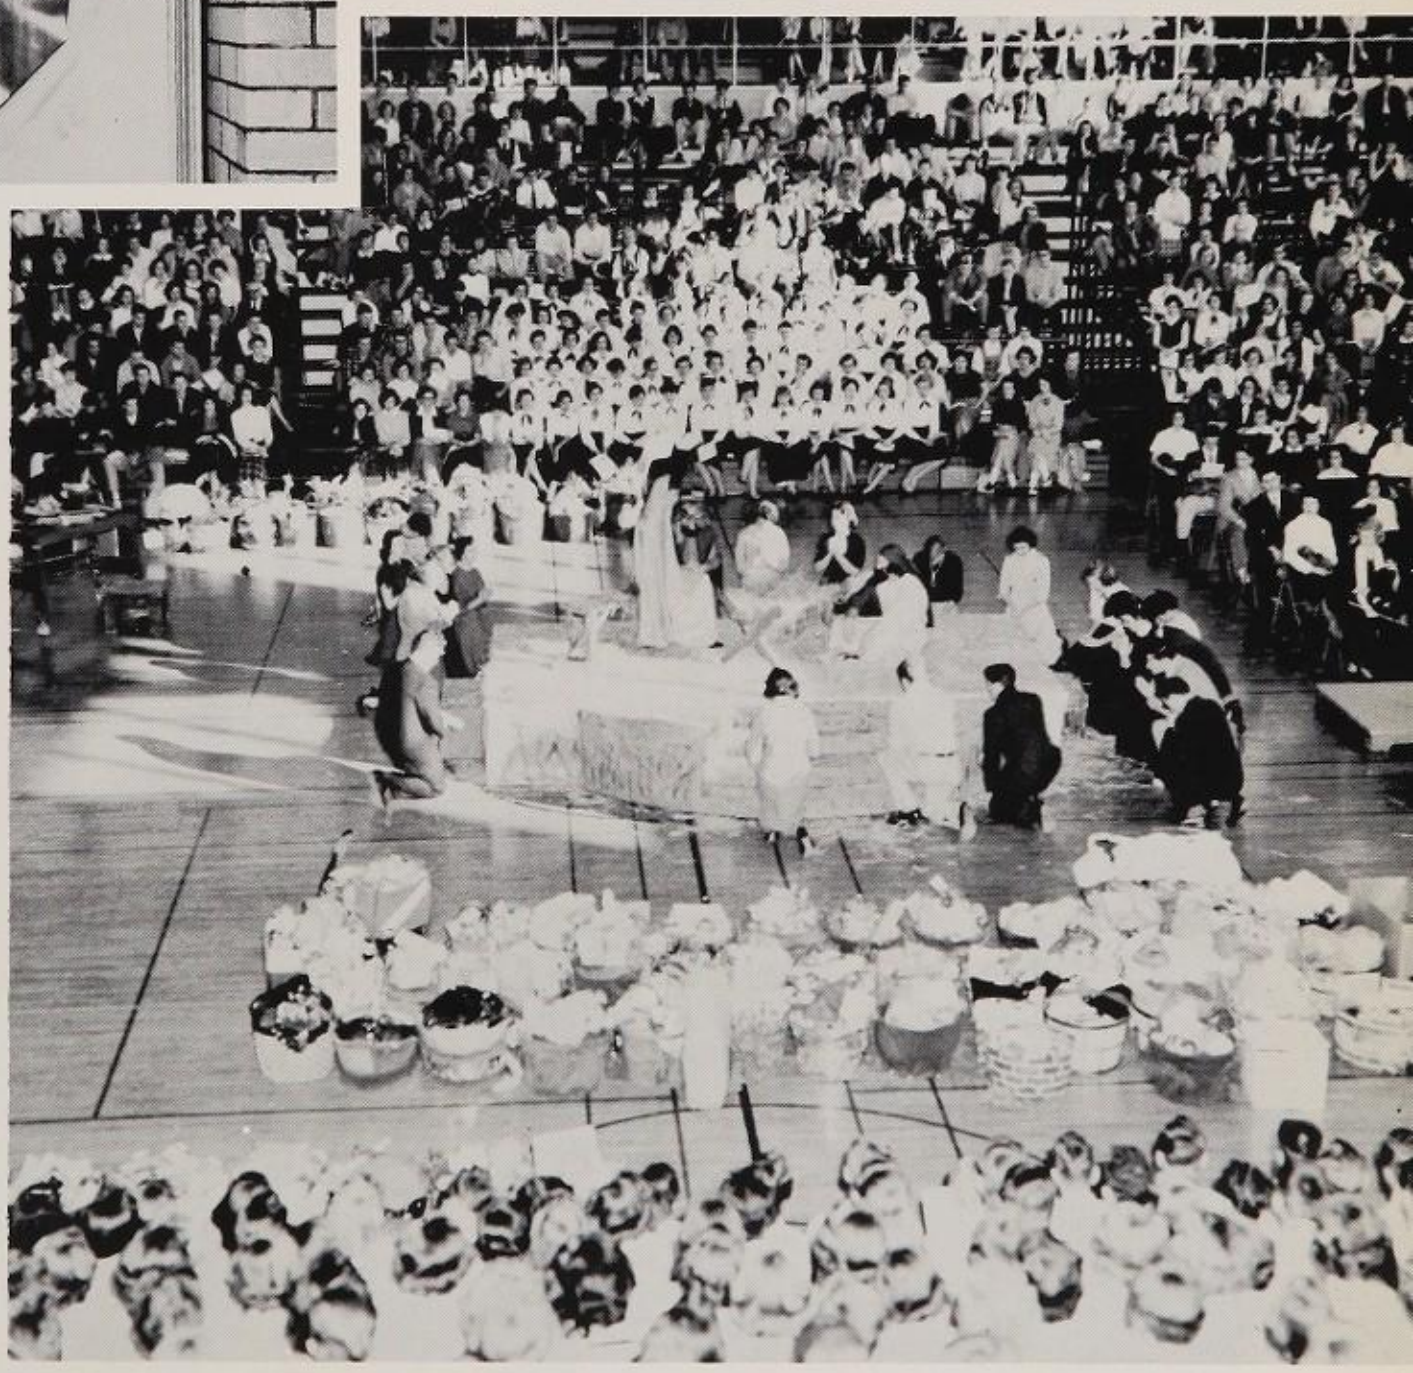
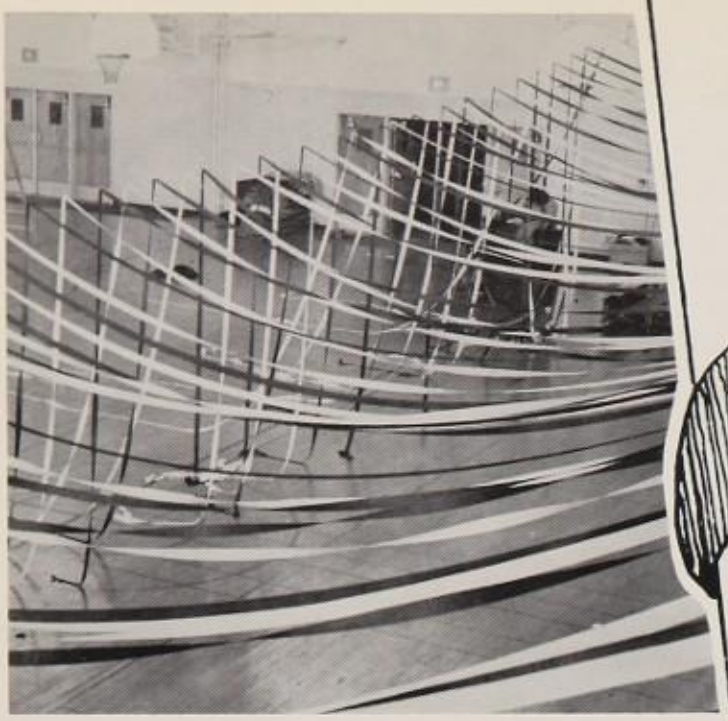
Originality and nourishment add to the giving part of Christmas as baskets are sent to needy families by many groups at W-L.

Quietness and simplicity won the I.C.C. award for the best decorated door.



Quiet worship and solemn dramatization of the Christmas Story marked the close of the year 1954.



Endless streamers of crepe paper and a hard day's work combine to create an illusion for crowds of dancing W-Lites.

With the variety of costumes and maritime decorations at the Hawaiian Dance one could almost hear the Pacific splashing against the gym bleachers.

Dances, couples winding geometric figures on a waxed floor. Dances, the favorite pastime of the W-Lite. Dances, be they informal record hops or the kind with floor swishing formals and black bow ties, bring a kind of eager happiness found nowhere else—a kind of excitment common to all and yet each has something for which it alone will be remembered. Who can forget the crazy sox of the Sock Hop, the creaky floors of the Crew Dance, the tropical theme of the Mediterranean Cruise and the Hawaiian Dance? No, none will be forgotten, just redesigned and filled with memories of fun, sentiment, and good times.

Mr. and Miss Argyle, John Bott and Susie Sels display the footwear which won them their titles at the Sock Hop.

The court of the King and Queen of Hearts—Idell Simms, Bill Swift, Sue Morse, Mike Durfee, Jo Schilling, Tom Bransford, Judy Acker, Art Eberdt, Patsy Burnett, and Dave Leffler.

The rulers of the Valentine Dance, Jo Schilling and Tom Bransford.

Moods and emotions are easy to find in this mob scene at the very successful fall Crew Dance.

Dances

Soft lights, juke box, and ties and dresses generously sprinkled with shamrocks are sure signs of the arrival of St. Patrick's Day at W-L.

After getting the jury hung by her own vote, Mrs. Crane adds flowery speech to her list of persuasions in order to swing the jury to her side.

THE JURY

Mrs. Crane brings court procedure to an exasperating halt while she gives her maid last minute instructions before the trial.

Left: Mrs. Price and Mrs. Maguire trip the light fantastic. Right: Yvett Yvet pleads for mercy as the jury retires.

Violence ensued in the jury room when the members collaborated to get the remaining dissenting votes changed by scoring the harassed foreman.

Gabby Brantly, Rosalie Harril, Mrs. Wendy Iverson, and Pat Kelly combine their talents to provide the meal called for in the script.

Tim Fine, exchange program chairman, discusses with W-L exchangees plans for their departure for Minneapolis on April 10.

Minnesota students, steeped with W-L enthusiasm, arrive on March 31 for their six-day stay in Arlington.

STUDENT EXCHANGE

The second annual student exchange carried out its purpose of acquainting W-Lites with a school from a contrasting area of the United States. W-L played host first, entertaining the students of Edison High of Minneapolis, Minnesota. The visitors were presented to Vice-President Nixon, Harold E. Stassen, and other notable statesmen in a round of interviews and sightseeing. W-Lites in Minnesota were feted in many ways. Tours through busy flour mills and steel plants, dinners, and miles of sightseeing trips were part of this satisfying experience.

"Big dance coming." These three short words jar more life into the students of Washington-Lee than any of the more common words, "homework," "test," or "holiday." A dance is one of the many events which give W-Lites a chance to patronize the merchants of Arlington.

After making sure of a companion for a big dance the boys rush to florists to order corsages; some go to department stores for new ties or shoe shops for finer footwear — they visit the stores of the community.

The girls leap into action, too. Beauty parlors turn out masterpiece after masterpiece to satisfy a variety of males; miles of taffeta and crinoline spin themselves into billowy creations at the many apparel shops in the community. Everybody has a part when W-Lites plan a ball.

But one of the characteristics of this age is that things like corsages and new dresses cost money. Once again the merchants help out. On weekends, or after school, armies of students march, each in his individual direction, to the establishments of the Arlington merchants. This time not as consumers, but as employees. Hours pounding cash registers, heaping well-deserved compliments on their bosses' products, or sweeping floors and stocking shelves are spent by W-Lites. Some are learning their life's work, others learning how to meet people, a few more just working to get money. Everyone gaining experience in living in a world of merchants. These merchants' customers might be other merchants or Government employees whose job it is to make sure that Arlington and America keep a system where merchants are allowed to employ high school students to make money for dances.

After the money is earned, and much of it spent for these dances, what happens? Throngs of students gather on a half-dozen or so eating places for an after-dance pizza, hamburger, or soda; more merchants benefit from Washington-Lee, and Washington-Lee continues to benefit from the area's merchants.

Thus it is all through the school year, and thus it will continue to be as long as students continue their educations in Arlington — students hard at work spending their time and money improving W-L and Arlington through the county's businesses.

And so it is over.
And so it is beginning.
The directions call
    with clear and bell-like tones.
We must respond.
We have no choice —
No inclination to refuse.
The challenges of North and South,
West and East
Beckon with careful arms.
Shy for what we might do to them,
Reticent, still, for what we may accomplish in them.
The time has gently nudged
    us further,
And we must depart from this place,
Though with a touch of wistfulness.
The directions call
    with clear and bell-like tones,
And we listen with a tense yet confident ear.
